Rockefeller Cites Need of Higher Goals

Governor of
New York Begins
Tour Through West

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today that the United States has a higher goal than frustrating the ambitions of the Soviet Union.

That goal, he said, "is to make sure that the emerging international order will serve, indeed will save, the aspirations of all mankind for a life of freedom, dignity and justice."

Rockefeller — widely mentioned as a probable candidate for the Republican presidential nomination but still not ready to confirm or deny it—arrives here today to open a fast-paced, four-day speaking tour of the west.

In a text prepared for delivery to the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, he said:

"The tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union should not and must not obscure our awareness of the great and affirmative challenge before us, and the resisting of Soviet aggression is only a part, a necessary but a negative part, of our great task as a nation."

"We are not simply striving as a nation to heal the wounds opened by the so-called cold war. We are striving to make man himself — the commonwealth of nations — healthy and strong."

"The test, therefore, of every action and every decision, must be more constructive, more profound and more serious than merely its usefulness as a momentary device to deter the aggression or check the claims of Soviet communism. Let me emphasize this."

"Our supreme purpose is not to defeat the intentions or the ambitions of others. Our supreme purpose is to struggle to achieve a world that respects our common heritage of belief in dignity and freedom of all peoples."

The New York governor heads north after a day in Los Angeles. He will make stops in northern California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Drivers Hurt, Deer Killed In Collisions

Two drivers were arrested following four accidents in the Salem area Wednesday.

Five persons, including a boy on a bicycle, were injured slightly in the mishaps and a deer was killed.

A Salem motorist, Robert Kupka, 24, of 1021 E. 3rd St., was treated at Central Clinic for a cut jaw and abrasions of the body after he lost control of his auto on Rt. 62, a mile north of here, at 3:30 p.m. yesterday and it struck a culvert.

Kupka was cited for reckless operation, Lisbon post Highway Patrol said.

A deer and a car collided on Rt. 45, about a mile north of Ellsworth at 1 a.m. yesterday, resulting in the death of the animal and a slight injury to the driver, Patsy Cain, 20, of Leavittsburg.

She suffered a cut leg which was treated by a physician. There was considerable damage to the car, highway patrolmen said.

Two Youngstown drivers were treated for cuts and bruises at the South Side Hospital after a two-car accident on Rt. 7 in Boardman at 9:40 last night.

Lillian Toth, 16, pulled out of a driveway in front of a car driven by Graham Tregurthy, 19, highway patrolmen said. Miss Toth was arrested for failure to yield the right of way.

Ten-year-old Lee Taylor of RD 2, East Liverpool was treated at East Liverpool City Hospital for a sprained ankle and body bruises after the bike rider made a left hand turn in front of a car driven by Ward Shilling, 29, of Youngstown on Rt. 30, just north of East Liverpool at 12:45 p.m. yesterday, the highway patrol said.

CEYLON STATEMENT
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Ceylon today told Asian nations of the Colombo Plan to forget the bitterness of their colonial past and concentrate on building a better economic future.

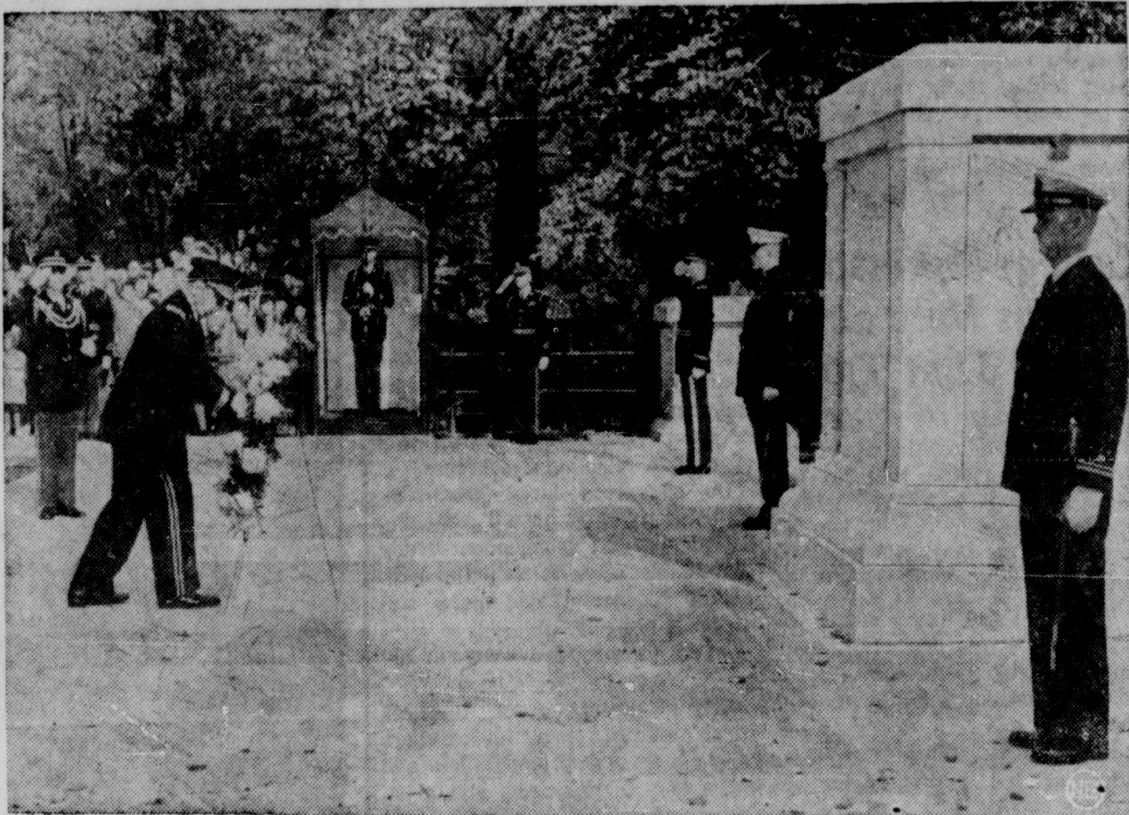

The sharp Ceylonese statement appeared to be an answer to Indonesia's President Sukarno who, in opening the 21-nation conference, referred with much bitterness to the colonial past and rejected all but financial aid from the West.

Cranberry Co-op Joins In Testing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The events that have raised the cranberry from the bog to the nation's headlines spotlight the power of the government in guarding the nation's food supply.

For half a century this power has existed, but "the cranberry episode," as Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming calls it, marks one of its most sweeping applications.

Formal court actions, filed this week in San Francisco, asked seizure of two small shipments — a total of 14 tons — of allegedly contaminated West Coast cranberries. But the incident is affecting, at least temporarily, an entire crop.

There were these developments:

1. Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., a major grower cooperative, says it is moving quickly to assay crops grown in Massachusetts, Wisconsin and New Jersey, about which no question was raised, as well as those in the West Coast. It hopes to clear uncontaminated cranberries of suspicion in plenty of time for Thanksgiving Day Dinners. Expanded forces from the Food and Drug Administration also were checking the berries.

2. The Army and Navy suspended use of cranberries grown in

Merchants Association Re-elects Its Officers

Although Salemites are just now looking forward to a Thanksgiving turkey, the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce is thinking a month and a half ahead of the calendar to Christmas.

In addition to approving officers and directors for 1960 at a recent meeting, the Retail Merchants picked their 1959 Christmas promotion committee and set the store hours for 40 of the city's larger stores.

Named to head the group next year, as recommended by the incumbent board of directors, are Horace Schwartz, president; Daniel E. Smith, vice president; Herbert E. Gordon, treasurer; Louise Bunn, secretary; and board members Val Galletti, Ed Lautner, Leonard Spencer, Elliott Hansell and Robert McCulloch Jr.

Directing the Christmas program for the merchants are Hansell, chairman; Galletti, Gordon, Spencer, Alden Gross and Jack Harroff. Stores will be open until 9 p.m. Fridays, Saturdays and Mondays from Nov. 27 until Dec. 22 when the stores will remain open nightly until 9 p.m. They will close Christmas Eve at 5 p.m.

Repair Ship Heading for Cable Break

SYDNEY, N.S. (AP) — A repair ship heads today for a spot 200 miles off Newfoundland where a transatlantic cable was damaged Monday, knocking out 36 telephone circuits from France and Germany.

Five cable breaks occurred in the same area last February, prompting an on-board investigation of a Soviet trawler found in the vicinity. It was believed, although never proved, that the trawler's deep-dredging plows might have cut the cable accidentally.

Two U.S. Navy patrol planes began scouting the area Wednesday for any ships that might have caused the latest break. Poor visibility forced them back to their base at Argentina, Nfld.

A spokesman for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said until repair crews examined the cable, there was no way of telling whether it was cut by a ship or damaged by some natural cause.

Family Life Programs Arranged In County

The Salem Community Chest stood at $60,046.63 today — 98 per cent of its goal.

New contributions yesterday brought in $915, Chest Association Secretary Byron Maxson reported.

"The drive needs only $1,291 now to go over the top," commented General Chairman Robert Oswald.

Another chest team, the small businesses group captained by Howard Firestone and Robert Hall, exceeded its quota Wednesday, bringing to 17 the number of teams which have met or exceeded their assigned goals.

Reports will be in tomorrow on the free movie at the State Theater tonight where patrons will not be charged but who may leave donations for the Chest Fund. The film, "For the First Time," stars the late Mario Lanza.

Veterans Day Observed Here

Legion, VFW Posts,
Saxons Hold Dinners

Among the local observances held in celebration of Veterans Day were dinners & programs at the Saxon Club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post Home and the American Legion Home yesterday.

The Rev. Richard Freseman gave the address when 250 members of Saxon Lodge Branch 19 gathered in the Saxon Hall. Paul Smith, superintendent of Salem schools, conducted a question and answer period concerning the local schools.

Frank Diehl was toastmaster, and the Sauerkrauts, a quartet composed of Bill Schuller, Mike Stumperth, Mike Lutsch and Chester Mellinger, entertained with vocal selections.

Fred Theiss, grand president of the Saxon Lodge, presented a 50-year membership certificate to Matthias Becker.

Marshall Sutherin, commander of the VFW Post, presided at a family dinner for members of the post, the Gold Star Auxiliary and the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, held in the Post Home. Carl Vignon gave the invocation. Movies of past Memorial Day parade were shown by Gordon Howell, and cartoons entertained the children. Mrs. Fred Snyder and Mrs. Harold Keefer headed the arrangements committee.

Ike Going to Georgia for Pre-Tour Rest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower left for Augusta, Ga., today for a rest before his good-will tour of three continents.

A small White House staff and George E. Allen, businessman and personal friend, accompanied the President on the flight.

This is Eisenhower's 24th visit to the Augusta National Golf Club since his 1952 election. The length of his stay this time is indefinite.

Mrs. Eisenhower will follow later by train. She delayed her departure to keep a luncheon engagement at the Capitol Hill Club.

White House officials said that Eisenhower wanted to get in some rest before he undertakes a strenuous 11-nation goodwill tour beginning Dec. 4.

While in Augusta, however, work in preparation for the January session of Congress will continue. Several government officials, including Budget Director Maurice H. Stans, will be going down for conferences on the 1961 budget and possible new legislation.

The President has already had a meeting this week with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson on a new farm program to be submitted to Congress.

Eisenhower's last trip to Augusta was Oct. 21-25. During that visit he got in a few games of golf, but most of the time it was cold and rainy or—in Eisenhower language—bridge weather.

General Motors Assembly Lines Come to Halt

Steel Shortages
May Hit Chrysler
After Next Week

DETROIT (AP) — All auto assembly lines in the vast General Motors empire stood silent today, stilled by lack of enough steel to turn out even one more complete passenger car.

Production of autos ground to a halt Wednesday night at the world's largest manufacturing firm. Shutdown of GM's last operating assembly line was the climax of a series of halts caused by the national steel strike.

The shutdown will last until enough steel can be obtained and parts processed to fill supply lines at assembly plants. GM has declined to estimate how long this might be but industry sources expect the shutdown to last up to four weeks.

Normally, at this time of year GM's five car-making divisions would be turning out more than 80,000 units a week.

Most GM lines have been down for 10 days and production was curtailed even before then by parts shortages. GM has laid off 220,000 hourly employees out of a normal work force of 320,000.

Ford Motor Co. is operating on curtailed work weeks but plans to step up production by the end of November. Ford makes almost half of its own steel.

Chrysler Corp. also has cut back production but will build all lines of cars through at least next week. The firm has laid off 5,850 hourly workers.

12 Soviets Are Visiting Columbia

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Twelve young Soviets are visiting Columbia this week and "The Maneater," student newspaper at the University of Missouri, says they are making monkeys of American collegians.

"American student minds here met the Russians minds and were defeated," the paper reported.

"The Maneater" said this was an example of exchanges between the Soviets and their hosts:

Typical American question: "Why does the Moscow government prevent the republics from seceding?"

Answer: "Why was the American Civil War fought?"

The paper said American students can't discuss U.S. foreign policy intelligently or even the American system of government.

"The Maneater" asked "Can we afford to let these students go home still laughing at 'the hotdog and marshmallow American student?'"

Lisbon Thanksgiving Service Is Arranged

LISBON — The annual United Thanksgiving service will be held Wednesday, Nov. 25 at the First Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. William Spangler of the First Christian Church delivering the message.

The affair is sponsored each year by the Lisbon Ministerial Association.

A joint choir, under the direction of Theodore Greener, will provide special music. Members of the all-church choirs are urged to participate.

Proceeds from the Thanksgiving offering will go to the American Bible Society.

Decision on District Due In January

Mahoning Local to Borrow Needed Funds

The Mahoning Local Board of Education Wednesday night authorized Mrs. Rhea Emmons, board clerk, to borrow $70,000 to meet operating expenses for the remainder of the year.

In explaining the need for the money, the clerk pointed out that the board's anticipated receipts for the remainder of the year will be $161,008. She said that this amount less the current deficit of $55,287, will leave an available balance of $105,721.

Expenditures for the remainder of the year, which include four teacher paydays totaling $36,500 each will amount to $173,078. In borrowing the funds the board will be able to offset the deficit of $67,357 which will be incurred by the end of the year.

Mrs. Emmons explained that although the board will receive some federal monies to offset, in part, this deficit, none of these items were included in the receipts expected this year because they probably will not be forthcoming until early 1960.

January Discussion Set
Superintendent of Mahoning County Schools W. C. Smith appeared before the board to request that he be allowed a place on the agenda at the January meeting. At that time he said he would like a frank statement from the board on the problems it expects to face now that the school bond issue has been defeated, and that he wishes to know the attitude of the board before the county board takes any action on a possible district split.

Smith added that he is making a study of such matters as the district's taxable wealth, residence of students, building capacities, distances involved in transportation, and potential increases in population among other factors before the board takes action. Smith said he wants the county board to be well informed if they should decide that they acted too hastily in forming the district in the first place.

Voters have rejected a high school bond proposal three times in as many years.

In other action, the board authorized school executive head Clinton Heacock to draw up a comprehensive school board policy. The Mahoning Local board at present does not have a written policy and Mr. Heacock pointed out that many times he would like to know where to point when certain problems arise.

Heacock said that he would submit the policy to the board.

Helena, Mont., Buried Under 15-Inch Snow

One Death Reported;
Snow Flurries Hit
Great Lakes Area

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Mounting drifts of snow buried much of Montana and paralyzed transportation today as an immense Canadian blizzard rushed hungrily down across the Plains states.

Fifteen inches of snow — a record — buried this capital city of 18,000 persons. Temperatures plunged to the zero mark.

Airline service was halted at Butte, Helena and Great Falls. Roads were blocked. Train travel was slowed.

One death was reported. Walter Hayes, 33, of Billings, was killed and two persons were injured in the collision of a car and truck near Laurel, Mont.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for parts of Nebraska and South Dakota and extreme northwest Iowa. Falls of four inches or more were indicated. Snow flurries flocked the Upper Great Lakes region and widely scattered showers were reported in Florida, Texas, Washington and in the Yuma, Ariz., area. Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy in other sections of the country.

Cuban Reply To U.S. Note Due Today

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba today will hand to U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal a 29-page document replying to American charges that Prime Minister Fidel Castro is deliberately campaigning to destroy traditional Cuban-American friendship.

Official sources said the reply, which some call "Cuba's White Paper on Cuban-American relations," to Washington's notes of Oct. 27 and Nov. 9 was completed in a conference between Castro, Minister of State Raul Roa, and President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The document, which the semi-official newspaper Revolucion said includes an analysis of Cuban-American relations since Cuba's war of independence with Spain, is expected to accuse the United States of following imperialistic policies toward Cuba historically and especially of campaigning against the Castro regime.

Contents of the note may not be made available until Castro makes them public in a television speech tonight.

Crews to Retrieve Acid Tank Car In Creek At Lisbon

LISBON — A crane and wreck crew arrived in Lisbon early this afternoon to retrieve an 186,000-pound tank car filled with sodium hydroxide with 50 per cent lye, which left the spur tracks about 9 p.m. Wednesday as it was being shifted to the Hood Chemical Company plant by the Erie Railroad.

Willis Stanley, station agent for Erie Railroad, said the tank left the tracks at a bridge over the middle fork of Little Beaver Creek and settled down in the water. The creek forms the southern boundary of Lisbon village.

County health authorities have been notified. They said if the contents spilled in the creek it would kill the fish and if any animals drank the water it could be fatal. At the present time there is no leakage from the tank, Hood Chemical authorities said.

If the car cannot be raised without danger of losing the contents, another tank car will be dispatched to Lisbon and the contents transferred to other tank before it is raised from the creek, railroad officials said. They gave no reason for the mishap but said it was being investigated.

Group Studies Attitudes

School Board Facing Difficult, Dangerous Problems OEA Find

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A difficult and potentially dangerous condition has been found by a survey team checking attitudes toward school boards.

Miss Jennie L. Davis of Cincinnati headed the team from the Ohio Education Assn. which checked the situation in Adams Township, Lucas County.

"Only the axe-grinders run (for school board)," one teacher commented to the survey team.

"It takes too much time to serve on the board . . ." a citizen commented.

The report indicated school unrest in Adams Twp. was directly related to the firing of seven teachers there last year. That action and other complaints about the school administration led to the three-day survey last April.

Parents ran to board members, teachers by-passed principals and the superintendent and students complained to anyone who would listen, the report said.

The basic cause of the complaints, the report stated, was the Adams school board's habitual interference in school administration, a job supposedly assigned to a superintendent.

One teacher commented: "I think the board is sincere, but it dwells on the picaresque and not the big problems—like upgrading the certification of teachers."

A feeling of disrespect for the board found in the Adams system, the report continued, "has many parallels in other school systems."

"Despite the growth of the school system . . . The board has been unable to forget the earlier years when it literally performed the administrative functions. . . . The board still is trying to administer the system . . ." said the report.

WRU Announces Tuition Hikes

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tuition in most schools of Western Reserve University will be 25 per cent higher for the 1962-63 school year than it is now.

The increases, announced Wednesday night by Reserve's president, Dr. John R. Millis, will be in two steps. Part of the boost will be effective next fall, the remainder two years later.

A semester credit hour, now $28, will cost $32 after next Sept. 1 and $35 after Sept. 1, 1962 in Adelbert College, Flora Stone Mather College, Cleveland College, the Graduate School, the School of Business, and the graduate division of the School of Nursing. Fifteen hours of work is about an average student load.

In the Schools of Law, Library Science and Applied Science, tuition next Sept. 1 will go up from $840 to $960 for the year and two years later increase to $1,050. Tuition in the Schools of Medicine and Dentistry will be boosted $100 next Sept. 1 and another $100 on Sept. 1, 1962. Medical school tuition now is $1,000 a year, and dentistry school $900.

Duck Hunter Drowns Near Wilmington

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A. C. Carl Bowyer, 20, of Long Branch, W. Va., drowned Wednesday when he fell into Lake Cowan, near here, while duck hunting.

A companion, S.Sgt. Floyd Goodwin, said Bowyer was trying to retrieve a duck when he fell into the lake. Goodwin expressed belief Bowyer was stricken with cramps in the cold water.

The body was recovered three hours later.

Both men were stationed at the Clinton County Air Force Base.

Newark Man To Head Ohio Farm Bureau

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ferris Owen, of Newark, was re-elected president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation here Wednesday.

The group also re-elected six other officers as it closed its annual meeting with a discussion of proposed state and national policies for 1960.

Others re-elected were: Wendell Weller, of Urbana, vice president; D. R. Stanfield, of Westerville, executive vice president; Arnold Keller, of Elyria, treasurer; Charles W. Fullerton, of Columbus, assistant treasurer; C. Maurice Witing, of Columbus, vice president; and Howard Friesbach, of Columbus, general counsel.

About 1,500 delegates of the 50,000-member organization attended the convention.

Delegates maintain they want the Ohio State Fair, terming it the best means for farm people to show their products to the rest of the state.

Only minor changes were made in the 22 pages of tentative recommendations, officials said. The federation's views on a wide variety of topics from health to telephones now goes to the American Farm Bureau Federation for consideration at the national level.

The Ohio group's tax policy includes a suggestion that the Ohio Legislative Service Commission study the usefulness of both a state and a local income tax as a possible means of relieving property from current taxation levels.

The farmers want 200 days instead of the current 120 days in which to file applications for gasoline tax refunds on off-highway vehicle use.

The federation suggested that a state fair commission be set up to hire a fair manager and determine policy. They also suggested enlargement of the grounds, modernization of fair buildings and year-around use of the facilities.

Ohio farmers are satisfied with present legislation on trespassing, the federation said, but it recommended "that all farmers carry farm liability insurance for protection against unknown risks."

Mechanic Critically Burned In Blast

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Akron mechanic was burned critically early today at a Cuyahoga Heights truck terminal garage when cleaning fluid being used on the floor exploded.

Donald Hogue, 23, was in St. Alexis Hospital with burns over most of his body. He ran from the garage with his clothing aflame. Three men outside took off their coats and smothered the flames with them.

Robert E. Brazier, manager of the Freight, Inc. terminal, estimated damage at $25,000. One wall of the concrete block building was blown out.

Miami President Cites Need Of College Buildings, Teachers

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—America won't have enough college buildings or college teachers to meet the demands of 1970 with present practices, Miami University president John D. Millett said today.

Dr. Millett made the statement in a keynote speech opening Miami's two-day conference on large-group teaching.

Carefully guided large-group teaching can be one of the remedies, but even that must not be "just an expedient to meet the coming tidal wave," he asserted.

Enrollment forecasts call for at least doubling the teaching force and greatly expanding physical facilities, and neither job is moving fast enough to preserve traditional teacher-student ratios for standards of facilities 10 years from now, Dr. Millett declared.

Dealing primarily with the prospective teacher shortage, Dr. Millett said "the three possible responses" include cutting down on student expansion, modifying "our conception of a desirable staff member" and altering instructional practices for "better utilization of college teaching resources."

He suggested large-group instruction, improved teaching equipment and independent study of possible ways to help the individual teacher reach more students effectively.

Yet, he warned, these would not prove cheaper.

Better utilization of teachers must mean providing the teachers with more stenographic help and more help in preparing and grading examinations, plus more help in the library, laboratory and in preparation of visual aids, he said.

College Professor Reveals He's on 'Name That Tune'

NEW YORK (AP)—A faculty member of a municipal college here has disclosed that he won $4,000 in 1957 with the help of special "warm-up" sessions before appearing on the CBS television program "Name That Tune."

"Maybe some might say I was lacking in civic conscience," said Robert Hayton Wednesday. "I was manipulated and I'm not proud of it."

Hayton, 37, is a professor of political science at Hunter College, a girl's school in Manhattan.

The story of his involvement in the scandal-tainted world of quiz shows was an echo of what happened to Charles Van Doren.

Van Doren admitted to a congressional subcommittee last week that he accepted help from the producers to win $129,000 on NBC's show "Twenty-One."

Hayton emphasized that he had never made a secret of the fact that he had received help before going on before the TV cameras.

SHE SUES—Ethel Davidson, a New York lawyer and losing contestant on TV's "21" quiz, is suing the show's producers, sponsors and her victorious opponent for $1,200,000. She received a $100 consolation prize when she was eliminated in her first appearance on the now-defunct show.

Work of County Units Cited In Battle Against Disease

The work of county organizations and individuals in helping to control diseases was cited today in a report issued by the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council.

The functions of the organizations was described as follows: The Columbiana County Public Health League, the anti-tuberculosis organization, with Miss Lillian Schroeder of Salem, a registered nurse, as executive secretary, has for years carried on an active tuberculosis control program in cooperation with the county and city health departments.

Contributions through the purchase of Christmas seals are used to finance the work of the league. Among its functions are early discovery of the disease through chest X-rays and education on tuberculosis control.

Mrs. Jane Jolly, a graduate nurse at East Liverpool, is employed by the American Cancer Society for Columbiana County. The work of the society includes research, with a certain percentage of the contributions going for that purpose, education and community services.

Distribution of literature on cancer and showing of films to interested groups are phases of the educational work. Follow-up care of patients and preparation of case histories are phases of the community service.

Columbiana County is a part of the Youngstown Area Heart Association, a chapter of the American Heart Society. Mrs. Earl J. Gruber of Hanover, a graduate nurse, is working in the county for this organization.

Her duties are divided into education and community service. Films, talks and distribution of literature are phases of the educational work. Mrs. Gruber works in selected schools on rheumatic fever control.

She also follows up on rheumatic fever cases reported by doctors and refers cardiac cases to the clinic. Research work of the heart society has made possible surgery for cardiac circulatory illnesses.

The Columbiana County Health and Safety Council is a large committee consisting of representative of all the various voluntary and official health agencies and organizations interested in health and safety.

It serves as a coordinating committee and promotes health education. Mrs. Ralph Phillips of Salem is president.

The Columbiana County Mental Health Assn. organized by the County Health and Safety Council a few years ago, has done an excellent job of promoting mental health activities, including county conferences of teachers and other interested persons. William Shoub of Wellsville is the president of the association.

A county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis functions in the county, with E. Allan McKeever of East Liverpool and Mrs. Winifred Byers of Salem as chairman and secretary, respectively. The organization handles contributions for polio control work and follows up on local cases.

Other national voluntary health agencies which promote activities in the county, include muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, and cerebral palsy. The hospital auxiliaries in East Liverpool, Salem, Lisbon and Columbiana make bandages for the hospitals.

Perhaps the best known phase of health work, not entirely voluntary although supported by voluntary organizations, is the school health work done with the help of school nurses.

Graduate nurses are employed by the East Liverpool, Salem, Lisbon, Leetonia, Beaver Local, United Local, Columbiana, Wellsville, East Palestine, and West Local Schools. Mrs. Violet Peterson, the county health department nurse, assists schools that cannot afford to employ nurses.

The school nurses, county health department and tuberculosis clinic nurses, the public health league secretary, and a representative of the County Board of Education meet monthly to exchange ideas and discuss matters pertaining to school and other health work.

First Ward Recount Scheduled Nov. 19

The Board of Elections has set Thursday night, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. for the recount of First Ward ballots here where Councilman Rudy Linder lost to Albert Lesch by eight votes Nov. 3. The vote was 599 to 591.

Linder posted $60 to cover the expense of the recount.

At 7 p.m. the same evening the board will re-check the ballots for Elkrun Township trustee where Clifford R. Westover of RD 3, Lisbon, apparently lost to Walter H. Coie of RD 3, Lisbon, 150 to 143. Westover asked for the recount.

PETER GILMAN, a publicist for the film subsidiary of NBC, poses with his typewriter. Pete leaves his job as publicist this week. The reason: He has written a novel, "Such Sweet Thunder," which a movie studio has purchased for $100,000. So Pete's going to Europe to write another novel.

Elkton

Mrs. George Eells entertained at a family dinner Wednesday evening in honor of her mother, Mrs. George Jones' birthday.

An official board meeting was held at the Methodist Church Thursday night.

National Education Week is being observed this week in the Beaver Local District Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gerde of Pittsburgh and Mr. and Mrs. William Jones of Lisbon were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Harrold were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ward of New Waterford.

Judy Harrold accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harold Diedrick and family of Lisbon to the Pittsburgh Airport Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Apple and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Baker were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bruey of Lisbon. The occasion celebrated Mrs. Apple's birthday.

The Annual School Fair, sponsored by the PTO will be held at the Elkton school Friday evening, Nov. 20th. A country store, fish pond, games and refreshments will be on the program.

Mrs. Elsie Jrl of Landshut, Bavaria, Germany, has arrived to spend a vacation at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Schiederer of the Lisbon-Elkton Rd.

The J. Krun Home Demonstration Group met at the parish hall Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Carl Hall and Mrs. Myron McCammon were leaders. The project was "Family Life."

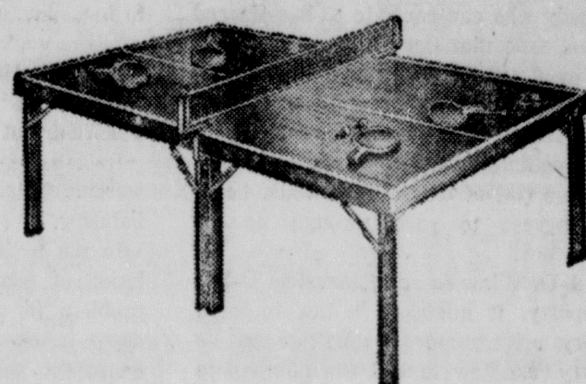

Hughie Evans, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Evans of the Lisbon-Elkton Rd. left for induction into the Army last week and is stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

But There Already Is a Law

Everybody who can count to 80 has figured out by this time that Congress will be under a full head of steam when the 80-day injunction ordering steelworkers and steel managers to resume operations expires.

The immediate effect of resuming the strike at the end of the 80 days would be to tempt Congress to rush through an ill-considered law.

It might be a law to seize the steel industry's property. It might be a law to force compulsory arbitration. It might even be some patty-cake law to fool the public into thinking something stern had been done, because 1960 is an election year.

But in all probability, there would be congressional action.

There already exists a law that would cover the whole situation, if it were permitted to do so. Theoretically, it is kept from doing so by another law, but lawyers are not too sure about that.

THE SHERMAN Antitrust Act, if it were applied to the nationwide union trusts that are today's counterpart of the commercial and trade trusts of a generation ago, would make it impossible for interstate combines of unionism to restrain, trade and control prices.

The Clayton Act presumably bars unionism from the effect of the Sherman Act. At the time the Clayton Act was passed, no one ever had heard of a modern vertical union with authority to bargain for an entire industry.

It was inconceivable then that unionism could become so strong that one day in the future it could hold more sway over the destiny of individual workmen than the employer who paid their wages. No one had dreamed yet of unions whose dues would be taken out of a worker's pay by his employer. It was believed that unions always would be voluntary organizations of craftsmen and that no law forbidding combinations in restraint of trade could be applied properly to the labor of free citizens.

THERE HAS been in 1959 a massive restraint of trade by United Steelworkers. The restraint may be repeated in 1960.

It can be repeated whenever the Steel workers might feel like closing down the industry.

In the automobile industry, strikes in violation of contracts have been a standing problem for years, because a sudden shutdown in one sector of this industry can cause the shutdown of the entire operation.

Yet if management had a grievance against the union or its members and sought to take out its spite by ordering everybody to go home and stay there until its feeling had been assuaged, the National Labor Relations Board would receive a complaint of another unfair labor practice.

The question that has crystallized in the steel strike of 1959 is how to even the balance between unions and management so that neither can endanger the national health and safety capriciously.

It is how to even the balance so management can ask something in return for another increase in its overhead, as management did this year when it asked for a review of work rules that had become inefficient.

THAT BECAME the stalling point in the negotiations—the thing the union negotiators refused to discuss. Finally, a few steel companies led by the Kaiser interests, broke away and settled on their own volition. Management can still do that.

Management is forced by law to maintain separate identities. Even proposals to form groups that might be in restraint of trade can be turned down, as was done by the Department of Justice in the case of Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

The country needs no new law to control unionism until it has done some clear thinking about the law that has been blocking over-concentration of power in business.

Uncovering Some Obvious Dirt

A report from Ohio's superintendent of purchases points up one of the immediate benefits of Gov. DiSalle's current series of surprise inspection visits to state mental hospitals.

The purchaser says he is being flooded with requests from the institutions for cleaning materials — detergents, soaps, disinfectants. He adds that the requests are becoming something of a headache because it is not easy to find what the hospitals want in the quantity they want on short notice.

There has been so much talk about the long-range, deep-rooted, expensive problems of improving conditions in our mental institutions that "the little things" are often overlooked.

Gov. DiSalle is aware of the overwhelming aspects of the job: the shortage of psychiatrists and other specialized personnel, the lack of adequate space to handle the increasing load, the burden of custodial care for those who cannot be treated or cured, the need for modern equipment, the lack of enough money to wipe out all those problems at once.

But he also has maintained since he first saw the report on the survey of needs by Jay W. Collins that there are things to be done right now, with the money at hand, that will have immeasurable effect on the health and morale of the thousands of people seeking help in mental hospitals.

One is simply cleanliness. The chief executive has been appalled at the dirt he has found as permanently installed in the insti-

Once Over

SCENE I. Washington's home. Washington Sr. is quizzing George.

Q. What about that cherry tree?

A. What cherry tree?

Q. The one that's missing.

A. I wouldn't know anything about a lost tree.

Q. It was chopped down with a hatchet. There are hints that you were involved. Are they true or false?

A. Such suspicions destroy one's faith in human nature. I am amazed. I know nothing about such practices in a cherry tree area.

SCENE II. House Committee probe. A director of cherry tree performances is on the stand.

Q. What do you know about the George Washington cherry tree episode?

A. This is a case of every man for himself and I wish to break a life habit and turn honest. Everything was rehearsed. George was willing to chop down a tree in his own way, but I gave him the hatchet and instructed him blow by blow.

Q. Are you aware George has denied any skulduggery?

A. Yes, but he never lifted a hatchet without a rehearsal. This was a controlled cherry-tree-chopping program and I regarded it as entertainment.

Q. Why did you kick out young George Washington?

A. I interviewed him first and decided he had the personality desired by the sponsor.

SCENE III. The same as Scene II, with George on the stand.

Q. George, have you decided to tell all?

A. Yes. It has taken me a long time, in fact a new tree has grown up and become fruit bearing, while I was trying to reach a decision. I chopped down that first tree in a rigged performance on the Parson Weems program called "I Cannot Tell a Lie." If I had my life to live over I wouldn't go near a cherry tree.

Committee Chairman: I want to thank you, tutions as some of their patients. At Apple Creek Hospital, for example where he found conditions comparatively good, he remarked that the kitchen just needed more ordinary, day-to-day housekeeping.

Probably part of the problem is that cleanliness is one of those conditions we take so much for granted, especially in hospitals, that no one ever thought the lack of it might constitute one of the big shortcomings of our vast system of mental institutions.

How incredible — even disgraceful — that it took surprise visits by the governor of the state to point that out!

Fire Dept. Impasse

City firemen's apparent reluctance to take a scheduled civil service examination for a lieutenant in the department points up the need for just such a position.

Elmer Bush already holds down the original lieutenant job but it's quite obvious he can't be on duty 24 hours a day—day after day, particularly when Chief Clarence Wright is away. So, without a second lieutenant, which City Council has called for, there would be periods, where no one would be in charge of the fire department.

Someone of authority must be in command at all times or else the public's safety is in jeopardy.

If the firemen can not resolve their differences, after a conference with the safety department, City Council should investigate the legal aspects of appointing an outsider.

By H. I. Phillips

George, for this courageous display of rugged honesty. You have a great future before you. Bless you, my boy, and may this prove a wonderful lesson to America.

Most shocking feature of quiz show probe is DA's belief that 100 people must have lied before grand jury. If they did they must have mistaken it for a TV program called "What's My Lying?" or "People Are Phony."

A NEW YORK JEWELRY STORE has advertised a 14 karat gold-headed golf putter for $1.475. This indicates a new peak in luxury living and we await the golf ball with a diamond core, the pearl-handled masher and the solid silver tee.

We borrowed a gold putter yesterday and it did won't for our game. It destroyed the confidence and morale of our opponent who had to use a regulation weapon.

A golfing friend who has money enough to swing the gold putter says he bought it just in case of a depression. He wants to be in shape to say, "I am down to my last gold-headed golf club" instead of "there is nothing for me to do now but try selling apples."

WASHINGTON SCIENTIST says glorious colors of autumn are due to loss of "chlorophyll" in green pigment of leaves. "Carotenoids" and "anthocyanisms" also are responsible for the pageantry. This is disappointing. We had always thought nature was responsible.

Among some folks in quiz shows there was an idea that honesty as well as lipsticks and blood pills should come in a dozen shades.

Even the severest critic of Van Doren has to admit that the lad was surrounded by hanky-panky artists and practically cut off from retreat. If some people in the TV industry didn't have the slightest suspicion of rigged programs they must have been sufferers from ear trouble, defective vision and a lost sense of smell.

Realists View Midwest

By HARRY HOMEWOOD

Each congressional election year finds about 100 to 125 seats in the House of Representatives that are classified by the professional politicians as "in danger, could go either way."

Next year poses a dilemma to the men who chart the course of elections for the Democratic National Committee.

In the Midwest, where the Democrats made deep inroads last election, a great number of Democratic seats in the House are in danger. One Democratic professional sourly admitted: "We could lose everything we have gained, maybe more."

The most critical states in the Midwest are listed below, with the clinical, perhaps slightly pessimistic reasoning of some professional Democratic politicians on their status in the 1960 elections.

Illinois now has 14 Congressmen on the Democratic side — as many as the professionals ever dared hope for. But Illinois might well hand as many as seven of those seats back to the Republican side.

If Mayor Daley of Chicago blocks the gubernatorial bid of Stephen Mitchell, the resulting internecine battle could lose two or three seats.

INDIANA NOW HAS eight Democratic congressmen out of 11. Six of these are freshmen to the Congress and all are potentially in danger. There is the chance that Indiana could swing the pendulum to the Republicans.

Iowa, with four Democratic congressmen out of eight, poses a big problem for the Democrats. Congressman Steven V. Carter is desperately ill and of the other three Democratic congressmen, two are serving their first terms. Iowa could go Republican.

Kansas is evenly divided — three Democratic congressmen, three Republican. Two of the three Democrats are in danger of being upset.

Michigan has six Democrats in the House out of 18. With practically no strength outside industrial Wayne County, the Democrats in this state don't figure to gain, nor do they think they will lose more than one seat at the outside.

Missouri is one state that looks promising. The Democrats now have 10 of the 11 seats and may gain the one remaining seat.

But some of the professional politicians outside Missouri are not happy about that state. Congressman Richard Bolling of Missouri's Fifth District is facing an uphill fight in the primaries.

The Democratic City Hall in Kansas City, no under control of some of the old lawless elements, is extending what appears to be immunity to a criminal element operating in Bolling's district. Bolling, one of the most promising congressmen (he is now serving his sixth term and is a member of the powerful Rules Committee and Economic Committee), is not "one of the boys" so far as the purveyors of narcotics and crime are concerned.

A strong fight is expected in the primary, with Bolling fighting off an as-yet unnamed Democratic candidate. Democrats, properly sensitive to such moves, are more than disturbed over the prospects.

In Nebraska, where the Democrats have two of the four House seats, both seats are in danger.

THE BIG STATE OF OHIO represents the worst position for the Democrats in that state since the 30's. They now hold nine of the 23 seats. Three of their "solid" Democratic districts are in the hands of the GOP. Three of the nine seats they hold are freshmen seats. Ohio Democrats could lose more than half their House strength.

North Dakota, with one Democratic and one Republican congressman, will not change. South Dakota, with the same division, could go to the GOP if Democratic Congressman George S. McGovern stands for the Senate.

Wisconsin, most difficult to predict, now has an even division: 5-5. To Democratic seats are in danger.

It adds up to the Midwest's being the focal point of the congressional elections in 1960.

It is a crucial situation for the Democrats, who must battle to keep what they have before they can look to increasing their strength.

With the possibility of a deeply divided national convention and the shattered egos that always come of such a fight, there is a strong possibility that the next Congress may be Republican.

Labor Monoply

Strike Points to Need of New Legislation

Judging by their speeches and comments, many of the prominent leaders of union labor have never been more out of touch with the temper of the workers and with public opinion generally than they are today.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO for instance, referring to the injunction in the steel strike, has just said to a convention of labor unions:

"If a law can compel a worker to work against his will, in my book it's a slave labor law." But isn't it a "slave labor law" when an American citizen wants to work but is forbidden to do so unless he joins a union?

This section of the Taft-Hartley law has been a boon to labor-union growth and applies in all states except a few which have enacted "right-to-work" laws to emancipate the workers.

What Mr. Meany and other labor leaders really object to is any law that isn't administered in favor of the labor unions. The President of the United States is required under the Taft-Hartley Act to invoke an injunction for 80 days when there is a national emergency due to a strike but there is nothing in the law that says he must favor either side or settle the strike with a victory for one side over the other.

YET EMIL MAZEY, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Worker, who seems to think that the President can favor either side by the use of an injunction, has just issued an attack on the personal integrity of President Eisenhower.

In a speech to the same convention at which Mr. Meany spoke, Mr. Mazezy said that Mr. Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley injunction as a "political pay-off" and cited campaign contributions by various steel men as the motivation.

The implication was that the President was influenced by this in declaring a national emergency. Such an accusation will not be given credence by the public.

The White House has denounced it as "demagoguery." The gratuitous attack on the President for doing his duty is the type of blunder the labor leaders make nowadays because they think they have the upper hand not only with the workers but with the public, too.

What the labor leaders are unwilling to concede is that they have been using monopoly power to close down an industry. R. Conrad Cooper, who is chief negotiator for the steel companies in the negotiations with the unions, has put his finger on the absolute of a labor leader today.

In a speech last Friday he said:

"No man in the management of any steel company — no matter how large the company, or how high the office he may hold — can shut down the American steel industry and deprive the American people of the products of its mills. Nor can any single individual in government do so — not even the President of the United States."

"No, among all the 170 million people in America there is only one man who can choke off our nation's steel supply at will and that man is the president of the Steelworkers Union."

"That is a power which he alone can exercise and it is a power which he has exercised in every steel wage negotiation that has occurred in the past five years."

AN EXAMPLE of the arbitrariness of the leader of the Steelworkers Union, David McDonald, came this week when he said in a speech that the union would not grant concessions to steel firms which have not junked all obsolete mills and machinery. He added:

"We will show no mercy to those companies who are laggards and do not engage in research or modernize but would make profits at the expense of the steelworkers... they have no right to exist in a modern world such as ours."

This disregards the individual capacity of a company to earn enough money so it can eventually replace obsolete equipment. It threatens the continued existence of companies of which labor unions disapprove.

The crux of the labor-management problem today is industry-wide bargaining.

Congress has never come to grip with this issue. Thus, it would do no good to forbid employers to band together into a single committee to handle all their negotiations, because the real power is usually vested in a national union that controls the workers in all plants.

Even if the employers, moreover, were forbidden to confer with each other on strike issues or negotiate in concert and make industry agreements, the national union could strike first one plant and then another and gradually shut down an industry with demands that uniform wage rates be paid, irrespective of the size of a company or its capacity to pay.

There can be no objection to the formation of national associations of labor unions to discuss union problems but where they attempt to exercise power by ordering strikes that local unions may not wish to undertake or by insisting on uniform expiration dates of contracts, the monopoly power is complete.

This is going to be the big issue in the new legislation Congress will be asked to pass at this next session.

Automation Welcomed

By OMER ANDERSON

DUESSELDORF, Germany — The United States steel industry's "featherbedding" issue is being highlighted by German steel's automation program to overcome a crippling labor shortage.

While U.S. steelworkers wage their last-ditch battle to protect jobs, German steelworkers are co-operating with management in pressing a billion-dollar automation program extending to virtual, by every Ruhr plant.

Pushbutton steel production is becoming almost a reality in the Ruhr as mill after mill replaces men with machines. Ruhr steelworkers are not only cooperating — they are enthusiastic.

To U.S. steelworkers, automation means the possible loss of jobs but to German steelworkers it means surcease from backbreaking labor, and higher wages. The mills have an understanding with labor that increased productivity will be rewarded with proportionate wage increases.

The contrary attitudes of United States and German labor toward automated steel production is explained by the job market. Ruhr steel can't find enough workers to fill its backlogged orders.

There are roughly 55,000 unfilled jobs in the German steel industry but fewer than 10,000 jobless steelworkers. West Germany will produce more than 25 million tons of steel this year, an all-time record.

But the Ruhr has plant capacity amounting to approximately 29 million metric tons, and 1959 production possibly would have reached 27 million tons were it not for the labor shortage.

The Ruhr is now pinched between the rising European demand for steel and a flood of orders from the United States.

German steel experts compare the general German steel production situation with that prevailing at Kaiser Steel Corp. German steel also uses oxygen converters extensively in preference to the usual open-hearth furnaces.

Most German steel producers have their own coal mines, although all must import ore. Even so, Ruhr firms, led by Krupp, have banded together to place ore importation on a "supercarrier" basis.

In the last few years the Germans have launched a fleet of ore-carrying vessels ranging up to 35,000 tons. More and larger supercarriers are on the ways, financed at least in part by American cash.

The current automation program was started two years ago and is now reaching the pay-off stage. It was undertaken under German steel's long-range program to gain a bigger share of the world steel market, a program which the U.S. steel strike made especially fortuitous.

Cites N. Waterford Record

Residents of New Waterford and vicinity believe they set some sort of a record in the Nov. 3 general election.

All but 10 persons eligible to vote cast their ballots, with every family represented at the polls. What sparked the heavy vote was the efforts of individuals and teams who worked at election time and in the previous five years to keep local control of our schools. The vote in New Waterford was 91 per cent against transfer to other school districts and the bond issue for a new high school carried by 87 per cent.

EMERALD CLUB members were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Pete Benedict of RD 1, Salem.

Mrs. Tony Colian Jr. was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Walter Webber and Mrs. Norman Miller were guests.

Five hundred prizes went to Mrs. Carl Kaiser, Mrs. Norman Miller, Mrs. Jerry Fowler and Mrs. Carl Tolson. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Miller.

Club members planned a dinner party for Saturday evening at the Pic - Wick Smorgasbord near Youngstown.

The next meeting is Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. George Thomas of Perry St.

THE LADIES ITALIAN Club will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the club rooms, instead of Nov. 26, because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

MRS. WALTER WOODS of RD 2, Salem was hostess to the Unique Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Richard Aiken, Mrs. Raymond Kerr and Mrs. August Benedict were guests.

Card prizes were awarded to Mrs. Albert Zocolo and Mrs. Henry DeRienzo, with Mrs. Benedict receiving the special prize.

Mrs. Tulio Cioti of 547 Walnut St. will entertain the group Nov. 24.

PAPERS ON "FRESCO" and "Tempera and Oil" paintings were presented by Mrs. Walter Strain and Miss Mary Wolcott at the regular meeting of the Salem Travelers Club Tuesday afternoon at the Smucker House.

Old fresco painting used the earthy pigment mixed directly into the wet plaster and was limited by the time it takes plaster to dry, Mrs. Strain said. Any unfinished bit was chipped off the next day. It is part of the wall of the building itself.

Old tempera was water soluble pigments mixed with a binder such as egg whites, which penetrated only a small fraction of the surface and flaked off with time.

These techniques are not to be confused with murals which decorate walls, but are made by many different methods, Miss Wolcott added. The oil and water color mediums explain themselves, she said.

Oil is most adaptable; water, most vivacious; tempera, most precise; and fresco, most noble, it was asserted. Their talks were illustrated with large color reproductions.

The annual Thanksgiving tea was announced for 2:15 p.m. Nov. 24. The social committee consists of Miss Mabel Chapman, Mrs. George H. Bowman Jr., Mrs. A. R. Silver, Mrs. E. S. Kerr, Mrs. Guy E. Byers, Mrs. Thomas R. Howett, Mrs. Neil Knowlton and Mrs. L. P. Metzger.

THE UNITY BIBLE Class of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday evening at Fellowship Hall, with 21 members present.

The president, Mrs. Fred J. Smith, was in charge of devotions. She read from the book of Psalms and gave a Thanksgiving prayer.

Mrs. Smith presided at the business session, when plans were made for the Christmas party which will be a coverdish supper at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 12 at Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Smith presented the program which included a cornet solo by Elaine Underwood, accompanied by Nancy Boyd; piano solos by Miss Underwood; and a quiz on the founding of the Methodist Church conducted by the Rev. William Snowball.

Mrs. Ina Hagedorn, Mrs. Margaret Siddle, Miss Elsie Butler and Mrs. Harry Milhoan comprised the social committee.

THIRTY-THREE MEMBERS of the Loyal Women's Class and seven guests attended the regular class meeting Tuesday evening at the First Christian Church.

Mrs. William Potts read an article, "Song of Praise of Thanksgiving," to open the meeting. "Our Land" was the devotional theme of Mrs. Joseph Emelo, who read a poem, "In This Our Land." The group sang, "America, the Beautiful."

A benefit was planned for Friday at the former Gray Auto store on E. State St.

Mrs. Nell Ogden and Mrs. Ola Shriver were named to the good deed committee for December.

Members voted to give donations to the church building fund, instead of having a gift exchange.

Mrs. Louis Sheen was program chairman, and presented the following program: Piano solos, "There's Music in the Air," "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages" by Roy Bush; solo, "Steal Away" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" by Diane Brantingham, accompanied by her sister, Patricia Brantingham; solo, "Wayfaring Pilgrims" and "Let's Go to Church Next Sunday Morning" by Vickie DeJana, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Schramm; and a poem, "A Moment in the Morning" by Mrs. Frank Vincent.

Mrs. Vincent and her committee served refreshments.

The next meeting will be Dec. 8.

THE MONTHLY MEETING of the Prospect School Junior Garden Club was held Monday. The club is sponsored by the Salem Garden Club.

A movie, "Nature's Children," showed the world of nature in Ohio through the seasons of the year. It revealed the fascinating creatures and beautiful flowers that live in nature's realm, which humans seldom see.

Three Thanksgiving table arrangements were illustrated by Mrs. Charles Corbett, Partridge berry bowls were made by Mrs. J. J. Hiegel, and presented to the three classroom teachers.

Instructions for making the table arrangements, together with other gardening ideas and hints were listed in the bulletins presented to each member.

A Christmas workshop is planned for the next meeting.

MRS. DONALD KERSHNER of Youngstown was guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Women's Association of the Salem Golf Club Tuesday evening.

Chrysanthemums and ivy formed the centerpieces for the tables which were laid for 38 guests. The committee consisted of Mrs. Arthur Linn, chairman, Mrs. Tim Hoppes, Mrs. Clarence Hartsough and Mrs. R. T. Holzbach. "Holiday Decorations" was the theme of Mrs. Kershner's illustrated talk. She made several arrangements in keeping with various holidays.

COTERIE CLUB members enjoyed supper Monday evening at the home of Mrs. T. L. Sauerwein of Depot Road, with Mrs. Helen Archer of Leetonia as hostess.

A Thanksgiving theme was used for the table decorations. After supper, secret pal gifts were exchanged.

PAST MATRONS association of Order of the Eastern Star enjoyed a dinner recently at the Coffee Cup and afterward went to the home of Mrs. M. W. Riegel of S. Lincoln Ave. for a business session. Mrs. Harry Sherwood was a guest.

The group planned a Christmas dinner party for Dec. 14 at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Vance McEane and Mrs. Effie Broomall are to be in charge of the tables.

MRS. NORMAN KORNBAU of Cherry Valley Road, Leetonia, will entertain the Salem-Perry Township Home Extension Council Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The leaders are Mrs. Ivan Harold and Mrs. G. S. Champbell.

Those attending are to take sack lunches.

Homemade Harpsichord to Be Used

Mount Faculty Recital Is Sunday Evening

ALLIANCE—Dr. Earl Russell, associate professor of English at Mount Union College, tunes the harpsichord which will be used Sunday evening during the faculty recital at Rodman Playhouse.

One of four instruments of various sizes constructed by Dr. Russell, the harpsichord will be played by F. Broadus Staley. He will accompany Steven Malycke as he performs an oboe concerto.

A wire-stringed, keyboard instrument popular in the 17th and 18th centuries, the harpsichord first interested Dr. Russell in 1950 while a graduate student at Columbia University. Eventually he became so enthusiastic about this unique instrument he determined to build one of his own, even though he had no real plans to work from and had to make most parts by hand.

The recital, the first of the current season to be presented by members of the Mount Union music department, also will feature Mrs. Jean Staley. Duo-pianists, she and her husband will play works of Frescobaldi, Bach, Brahms, Rieti, Debussy and Khat-chaturian. The recital begins at 8:15.

Newlyweds To Make Home In Lisbon

An undisclosed wedding trip was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dickey who were married Friday evening in the North Beaver St. Church of Christ in Lisbon. Upon their return, they will reside on Sunset Drive in Lisbon.

Mrs. Dickey is the former Miss Beverly Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hill of Lisbon. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dickey of Signal.

The Rev. Glenn Longston officiated at the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white, with a matching cap holding her illusion veil. She carried a prayer book topped with a bouquet of pompons and stephanotis.

Mrs. Joyce Stewart was her sister's matron of honor, and Mrs. Carolyn Crawford was the bridesmaid. Marcia Dickey, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Ronald Crawford was best man, and the ushers were Charles Dickey, Larry Poppel, Allen Westover and Larry Stewart. The ringbearer was Blair Hill, nephew of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the bride's home.

The couple are graduates of the Lisbon High School. Mr. Dickey is employed by the Porter China Co. of Lisbon.

Historical Society Plans Dinner Dec. 8

A Christmas coverdish dinner was planned for Dec. 8 when the Salem Historical Society met Tuesday evening at the GAR Hall. Ten members and three guests were present.

Alfred Crawford, president, opened the meeting with prayer. The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Miss Lucille Baker and Mrs. Bernice Burkle, respectively.

The dinner meeting was scheduled for 6 p.m. at the GAR Hall.

A letter was read from Frank H. Anderson, superintendent of the Harper's Ferry National Park in West Virginia, stating that a centennial dinner will be held Jan. 28 in Canton for the observance of the raid at Harper's Ferry. Members are planning a trip to the park to retace John Brown and Edwin Coppock's raid on the arsenal at Harper's Ferry.

The program included a vocal trio, comprised of Mrs. Rex Hundertmark and her daughters, Marcia and Cheryl, who sang "If You Believe," and a medley of seasonal songs. Cheryl Hundertmark played four piano selections, "1812 Overture," "The Swan," "Dancing Doll," and "The Spinning Wheel."

Miss Baker played two of her own compositions, "Melodie" and "Sparklets." She also read an article from the Mahoning Dispatch concerning Ohio in the Revolutionary Days. Allen Dickson read a paper on the Indian wars in Ohio.

150 Cattle Breeders Attend Association Dinner Program

Approximately 150 cattle raisers attended the annual Central Ohio Breeders Association banquet at the Winona Methodist Church Wednesday evening.

Lee Haynam of East Rochester and J. Harold McCullough of Salem RD 2, were elected new committeemen for three years. They succeeded Virgil Whinnery of Salem and Leo Davis of East Rochester RD 1. They will take office Jan. 1.

Bryce Tharp of Minerva RD 2, one of the three technicians present reported they expect to breed 6,000 cows in the county this year. His report showed an 185 increase in 1958 and the breeders hope to have a 292 increase this year.

Columbiana County is one of the 37 counties in the state who breed by artificial insemination. The county ranks 7th in the state with 37 per cent of all cows bred through this method.

Richard "Dick" Kellogg of Columbus gave a managers' report on COBA and told the group that although the organization is sound and good, they are constantly striving for improvements.

The group is expanding into Texas and Colorado. Texas will breed 50,000 cows this year and Colorado 11,500 he said.

Expectation of 251,500 services this year for an income of $1,364,340 was reported. COBA has a 1964 goal set at 375,000 services with income of $1,750,000.

William J. Tynnik, professor of animal science at Ohio State University, was the guest speaker and kept his audience laughing during his humorous speech on farm problems in feeding.

J. Frank Morris of Columbiana RD 2, chairman and state director, was toastmaster. He introduced the present COBA committeemen:

Lewis Jusison of East Palestine, RD 2, secretary; Edwin Copeland of Hanoverton, RD 1, treasurer; John Yaggi Jr. of Alliance RD 5; Leo Davis of East Rochester RD 1; Virgil Whinnery of Salem RD 3 and Walter Boyd of Wellsville, RD 1.

Technicians introduced were Tharp, Anthony Edgerton of Columbiana, RD 2, and John Lafler of Winona. James Mellinger of Leetonia, RD 2, district supervisor, was also introduced.

A piano duet by Paul and David Morris, flute and clarinet duet by Lois and Joyce Whinnery, and Janet and Marilyn Copeland gave a clarinet and saxophone duet.

The Rev. Charles Richardson of the Franklin Square Methodist Church gave the invocation.

Speaker of the evening, Paul Killfoil of the Veterans Administration office in Youngstown, talked on veterans' benefits and rights. Tribute was paid to John Herman for his leadership in the Junior Baseball program the past years and 18 past commanders were recognized.

Cranberries

Washington and Oregon, but will permit use of those that can prove grow elsewhere.

3. The New Jersey Farm Bureau said it will seek government payments to farmers for sales they have lost as a result of the controversy.

4. The National Grange, meeting in Long Beach, Calif., demanded that federal officials appear and explain why the crackdown was ordered.

The episode had its origins in 1957 when some cranberry growers adopted a new weapon in their unending war against weeds. It was aminotriazole (pronounced a-meen-o-try-a-zole), a synthetic chemical killer that was still undergoing some tests by its manufacturer and had not yet been registered with the Department of Agriculture.

After the cranberries were harvested, inspectors for the Food and Drug Administration found one-third of the berries grown in Oregon and Washington showed traces of the pesticide. So did a small amount from Massachusetts.

Meanwhile, the manufacturer, American Cyanamid Co., conducted tests to see if Aminotriazole would have any dangerous effects if absorbed by humans. The long, painstaking studies were finally completed last May.

Rats, fed steady quantities of the chemical, developed cancer of the thyroid. The concentrations fed to the rats were much stronger than those found on the tested berries. No tests were made of the chemical's effects on human beings, but the conclusion, based on the experiment with rats, was that Aminotriazole might be a cancer-causing agent.

The basic legislation under which the government acted goes back to 1906 when the original Food and Drug Act was passed. But in the cranberry episode the FDA is relying mainly on an amendment passed by Congress in 1958 which forbids the use in goods of any chemical that produces cancer in test animals — as the Aminotriazole did in rats.

Deaths, Funerals

Charles R. Leishman

SALINEVILLE — Charles Robert Leishman, 12 days old, died of bronchial pneumonia Wednesday at 7:15 a.m. in Aultman Hospital in Canton soon after admittance. He had been ill one day.

Born Oct. 3, 1959 in Aultman Hospital, he was a son of Charles William and Marcia Shallenberg Leishman of RD 2, Salineville.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Terri Lynn of the home; maternal grandparents, Mrs. Mildred Pitts and Charles Shallenberg; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leishman of Salineville; great-grandparents, and a great-great-grandmother.

HEN PARTY — Some 4,400 hens jam a coop at Tonganoxie, Kan. Owner J. M. Jack eventually hopes to have 10,000 hens under one roof, producing 7,000 eggs a day. The tenants, Dekalb hens, are automatically fed and watered and their house automatically cleaned. When the arrangement is completed, the eggs will roll out of the nest into a trough for collection.

Point for Dispute

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In the forthcoming session of Congress and in the long political year ahead, the issue of civil rights, among the warmer topics of our day, will receive enormous play. It will be widely publicized, bandied about, abused, used and consequently distorted.

The point of departure for much of this inevitable inundation will be the recent 596-page report of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, created in 1957 and composed of three Northerners: John A. Hannah of Michigan State, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh of Notre Dame and George M. Johnson, former dean of Howard University Law School—and three Southerners: John S. Battle, former governor of Virginia; Robert G. Storey, former dean of Southern Methodist law school and Doyle E. Carlton, former governor of Florida.

THE REPORT contains more than vast disagreements among its members regarding the issues of discrimination in voting, education and housing. It emphasizes a perhaps irreconcilable difference of opinion over federal-state relationships under the Constitution.

The "liberal" majority of the Commission believes that the federal government has the right, the power and the ultimate responsibility to legislate and enforce non-discrimination: "To eliminate discrimination and demoralization, some dramatic and creative intervention by the leaders of our national life is necessary."

"In the American system much of the action needed should come from private enterprise and voluntary citizens' groups and from local and state governments. If they fail in their responsibilities, the burden falls unduly on the federal government." Obviously, they feel, the failure is manifest and the burden should be shifted to the federal shoulder.

The Northern members propose a constitutional amendment which "would give the right to vote to every citizen who meets his state's age and residence requirement and who is not legally confined at the time of registration or election." There is a proposal to send federal registrars to states or their political subdivisions from which nine or more sworn affidavits alleging discrimination in the right to vote have been received. There is a proposal that federal funds be withheld from non-integrated institutions of higher education, both private and public; a proposal to make the commission a permanent clearing house and conciliation service to assist in bringing about integration and proposals to integrate federally assisted housing.

COMMISSIONERS Storey and Carlton, with Battle concurring, say: "On principle, proposals for constitutional amendments which would alter long standing federal-state relationships, such as the constitutional provision that matters pertaining to the qualification of electors shall be left to the several states, should not be proposed in the absence of clear proof that no other action will correct an existing evil. No such proof is apparent."

Although the Commission's labors stretched over a 16-month period, its researches are limited and naturally give an incomplete picture.

Since the commission's findings provide abundant grist for the political mill and since the commission will not be idle, for its life has been extended for two years, it would do well in its future investigations and studies to heed the supplementary statement on education by Southern members.

That says in part that the text preceding the findings and recommendations is "based largely upon information supplied by school officials from five large 'border' cities. Little acknowledgment has been given to different conditions found in large areas where the problem is most acute."

This report represents an admirable effort to approach explosive issues with care and reason.

True, it cannot solve a problem which will take a generation or more to resolve. But in considering the arguments of both sides on the integration issue, all Americans should realize the danger of resolving a lesser difference by creating a dangerous upset in the state-federal balance of powers, either by constitutional amendment or economic pressure. That would be disastrous to all interests.

California Family Found Dead In Home

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A little girl thought her neighbors' pets looked hungry. She and her father investigated and found a family of four dead. The coroner calls it a triple murder and suicide.

Dead in their beds, wearing night clothes were Bette Lavine Gardner, 38, and her daughters, Randy Lee, 12, and Diane, 8.

Each had been hit on the head with a two-pound sledge hammer. At the foot of Mrs. Gardner's bed was her husband, Charles Richard Gardner, 38, dressed in khakis and with a bullet wound in his right temple.

On the floor nearby was a .45 caliber service revolver. In a waste basket between the Gardner's twin beds was a bloody sledge hammer.

"I'd call it a triple murder and suicide," Coroner Christopher Hill Jr., said Wednesday after the bodies were found. "But it's a baffler. No notes. No explanation."

Papers in Gardner's home disclosed he had recently applied for a job as an art teacher in Wellington, New Zealand.

A prospectus he wrote describing himself gave no indication of desperation. But a letter from Gardner's brother, found in the house, expressed sympathy for severe headaches he had been having.

His only debts, Gardner wrote, were the payments on his $25,000 frame home near the Monterey Peninsula Country Club in Pebble Beach's beautiful Del Monte Forest.

China's Wonder Boy

By RON G. WHITEHEAD

HONG KONG — Full credit for the alleged plant wonders is being given 23-year-old Chiang Shao-fang, a watering boy who five years ago became fascinated by "Michurin" plant hybridization experiments in Kwanfai province.

Chiang's work has been widely publicized throughout Red China and last year he was a delegate to the second national conference of "Young Builders of Socialism" in Peiping.

Chiang also claims that, by taking the white of a goose egg and injecting it into a hen's egg, he can produce a large bird of "great stamina" with very fine-grade meat.

Miss Margaret Maines presented a plan for a proposed payroll deduction system for a credit union for the approval of the board. Following an objection by Mrs. Emmons on the grounds that many of the people would continually be wanting to change their deductions, the board tabled action on the matter until they can study the issue further.

Budget is Approved

Mr. Heacock announced that the hearing on the district's 1960 budget, had been held and that it was approved by the budget commission. He announced that the district's bond retirement rate had been dropped from 4 mills to 3.7 mills in connection with the new tax evaluation of $27,889,390 in the district.

Heacock revealed that the boiler at the Beloit building has not been repaired, and that he had written the Stanton Heating Co. of Martins Ferry requesting that this be done immediately.

The board and the executive head will meet with Thomas Williams of the Williams Asphalt Paving Co. of Youngstown later this week to work out a settlement on the job the firm did at Knox school several years ago.

The board also decided a one-acre piece of ground next to the Knox school, which is used in the sewage system there, back to Edward Kibler, who in turn deeded the board the correct piece of ground. An error in surveying the ground was uncovered recently when a farm surrounding the property was put up for sale, making the deed exchange necessary.

The board approved the resignation of Miss Carol Dixon of the Maple Ridge school who is to be married later this month.

Board president Norman Barnett gave a brief report on the Ohio School Board Association meeting in Cleveland, which he attended Wednesday.

Mr. Heacock announced that he and principals of both Goshen Union and Sebring High School and the county high school supervisor have embarked upon a study of the curricula in both schools.

Lisbon VFW Plans Program This Evening

LISBON — The Rev. Fr. F. W. Braun of St. Patrick's church in Leetonia, state Veteran of Foreign Wars chaplain, will be the guest speaker this evening at the annual Veterans Day banquet of Wilfred Clunk Post 4111.

Dr. H. W. Bennett, a veteran of three wars, will serve as master of ceremonies and the VFW auxiliary will serve a chicken dinner for members and guests. Evan Evans is post commander.

ping claims it has developed. Full credit for the alleged plant wonders is being given 23-year-old Chiang Shao-fang, a watering boy who five years ago became fascinated by "Michurin" plant hybridization experiments in Kwanfai province.

Chiang's work has been widely publicized throughout Red China and last year he was a delegate to the second national conference of "Young Builders of Socialism" in Peiping.

Chiang also claims that, by taking the white of a goose egg and injecting it into a hen's egg, he can produce a large bird of "great stamina" with very fine-grade meat.

IN SEARCH of a drought-resistant rice he noted the fact that sorghum survived when rice withered. To achieve a cross he found a way of killing the stamens on rice flowers by the application of warm water for exactly 10 minutes at 42-45 degrees Centigrade.

His only "scientific instrument" was a doctor's clinical thermometer. He judged the time (for lack of a watch) by a school's recess bell.

By the spring of 1956 the new hybrids, planted in pots, were five feet high with thick woody sorghum stems and more than 500 grains apiece of drought-resistant rice, according to Chinese Communist reports.

Appointed assistant to a biology teacher as a reward for this effort, Chiang studied grafting, trying to make rice take on maize stalks. After 62 consecutive failures he claimed:

"One day I cut open a maize stalk and was examining it through a magnifying glass when I noticed a strangely formed shoot coming up inside it at the collar nearest the base."

"I had never seen this shoot mentioned in any book and was very excited at the find — which I afterward named the 'growing awl' from its shape. To this shoot I grafted a rice seedling. It took at the first try. No. 63 was a success."

LATER, CHANG said, in the Red monthly "China Reconstructs" villagers told him of a grassgrowing on a near-by mountain which had more than a thousand grains in one ear.

"Braving tigers," one report says, he visited this remote spot and was overjoyed to find the "grass" a species of wild rice. Transferred to Chiang's experimental plot, it is now doing well and Chiang is trying to breed it as a regular strains well as using it for cross-breeding with other varieties.

Chiang now hobnobs with professors and agricultural experts, showing them how, and has been made head of the seed selection and hybridization group of a big experimental farm at Yulin.

Some of his 100 projects this year have been: To produce a high-yield rice with a minimum of 500 grains per ear; to combine grain and industrial crops in a "three-in-one" plant with a sugarcane stem and ears of both sorghum and maize and to graft cotton onto a cotton rose to produce natural colored cotton.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband sells vacuum cleaners direct to the consumer. This means he is in and out of women's homes all day. I never gave it a thought till my neighbor put a bug in my ear.

It can't be that my brains are scaring the fellows off. I'm not that smart. I'm just an average student.

Give me a clue, Ann. What can I do to prevent this year from being a total flop?—WHY.

She says it's not humanly possible for an attractive man like my husband to be with women all day, in the privacy of their homes, and not get involved here and there.

She said she trusts him, but claims a man has to be made of wood not to weaken sooner or later.

We have three children and get along fine. He makes good money, likes his work and is always home on time. I'm ashamed to admit it but I've examined his clothes for lipstick and have found no traces. Please comment. — QUESTION MARK.

Dear Q.M.: Tell needle-nose to mind her own business and not to bore you with her suspicions. I suspect she's either unmarried or having trouble with her husband. Find other "friends." This woman doesn't have your interests at heart.

Four Success Rules

Dear Ann: This may not seem like a problem to you — but it sure is a big one to me.

I'm a senior in high school and I can count on my thumb the number of live dates I've had this semester. I'm no knockout but I get my share of whistles. People tell me I have a swell personality, that I'm a "good kid" and lots of fun. But still — no dates.

Your Secret

Dear Ann: When I was young I had a daughter out of wedlock. The same year, I married a man who was a saint. He has always treated this girl like his very own. We now have four other children and are a happy family.

A thousand times I've wanted to tell this girl the truth but I'm so afraid she'll lose respect for me. She's almost 16 and very kind and understanding but I can't get up the nerve. Can you suggest a way to tell her so she won't have a low opinion of me? — GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio's Weather Outlook Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

High pressure cleared Ohio skies during the night, ending the rain.

Rainfall amounts over the state Wednesday averaged from .4 inch at Bucyrus to .18 at Columbus and .12 at Toledo and Cincinnati.

Temperatures Wednesday reached as high as 60 at Chesapeake, 54 at Columbus and 52 at Toledo before the cooling rain began. Temperatures averaged about 20 degrees lower this morning than on Wednesday morning, with Toledo dropping to 23, Columbus 29 and Findlay and Mansfield 27.

A low pressure area over eastern Colorado this morning is forecast to move eastward today, bringing cloudiness to Ohio tonight and rain on Friday with slightly higher temperatures.

2 Monkeys Create Havoc In Rail Depot

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Two freedom-loving monkeys scampered happily today along Union Station girders but four others munched bananas in captivity after 27 hours aloft in the huge railway depot.

They escaped from their cage Tuesday.

E. J. Johnson, a shoemaker whose shop is near the station, tricked the frolicking monkeys Wednesday by tossing lemons onto a fire escape. The monkeys chased the lemons into an office, but two of them dashed to freedom again when a secretary screamed and fled the office through a window. The monkeys followed.

Before they could be subdued, the four captured animals scaled the walls and nearly wrecked the office as a posse of police, railway workers and humane society folks moved in. One monkey climbed a swinging light fixture and sent it tumbling to the floor.

The monkeys were scheduled to resume their journey today to the University of Cincinnati Medical School for use in polio research. They escaped their cages in the station Tuesday.

Panel Discusses Public Relations Need In the Schools

CLEVELAND (AP) — In order to win ballot-box approval of bond issues and levies, schools must keep the public informed of their activities and needs throughout the year, panel speakers at a sectional meeting of the Ohio School Boards Assn. here Wednesday agreed.

Panel moderator was Joseph L. Davi, public relations director for Columbus schools, which now make up the second largest school system in Ohio.

Methods used by the Columbus Board of Education in putting across a 29-million-dollar bond issue and 7.6-mill operating levy at last week's election were discussed.

Robert Olds, Ohio Education Assn. public relations counsel, said any school system with 50 or more employees should have a staff member trained in public relations, even though his work in that field might take only two or three hours weekly.

BURNS PROVE FATAL

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Jackie Wayne Cordie, 3, was burned to death Wednesday in a fire at his grandfather's farm near Minford, northeast of here. The boy was playing in the barn loft. His mother was burned trying to rescue him.

Winners have been announced in the local Prince of Peace declamation contests, held last Sunday at two churches here. The winners will advance to the county contest, which must be staged prior to Dec. 13. Jack Brittain placed first in the event held at Grace United Church, and Janet Davis was winner in the evening contest, held at the Methodist Church.

Mary Jo Arn was second at the Methodist contest. She won first place in the district last year. Others competing in the evening were Susan Ferrall and Loretta Forth. Second at the Grace Church contest was Nancy Rowland. Others were Tom Haney and Sandra McBane. Original written essays by Haney and Bettie Jean Barber have been forwarded to Columbus for judging in the written entries division.

DR. W. L. LEHMAN and Miss Estella Esterly, members of the Columbiana board of education, and D. W. Bailey, school superintendent, attended the Ohio School Boards Association meeting Wednesday and today in Cleveland.

Bailey reported that all members of the school faculty and all administrators are members of the four key professional organizations — Columbiana Classroom Teachers Association, East Central Ohio Teachers Association, Ohio Education Association and National Education Association. He also said that all custodians, cafeteria workers and bus drivers are members of the Ohio Association of School Employees.

RAYMOND SNOKE won first and second place in the slide contest on "Night Life Out of Doors" at the Columbiana Camera Club meeting Monday night at the Lutheran Church. Mrs. Robert Young placed third.

The program featured a discussion on black and white portraits by Jack Haines, former operator of a local studio. Miss Suzanne Karcher posed in majorette uniform for studies by club members. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hickman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young.

Frank Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boston of S. Main St., has received notice that he passed a state board of pharmacy examination given last month. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

Grenade Blast Victim Dies In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A Staten Island housewife died today of injuries suffered in a mysterious explosion Tuesday night.

Death came to Concetta Giarletta, 41, as police sought to hunt down her slayer with a single clue—the handle of a hand grenade.

The woman's legs were amputated by physicians shortly after the explosion, and she underwent further surgery Wednesday for other injuries.

The kindly, ailing woman lost her legs in an explosion touched off when she lifted the garage door behind her house to let her husband drive the car in.

Police found the grenade handle—bearing a serial number—inside the shrapnel-pocked building.

Police, lacking a motive, speculated that Mrs. Giarletta might have been the victim of mistaken identity.

Her 50-year-old husband, Frank, an oil truck driver, said he knew of no enemy who would try to harm her or himself.

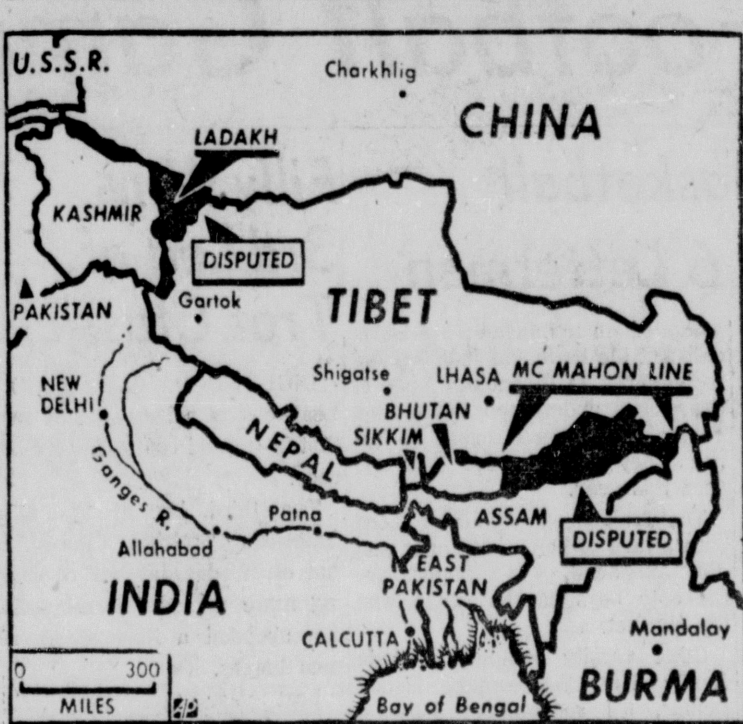

He was in the car eight feet away when the blast went off with a shattering crack heard a mile away. He was not hurt.

NEW MERCHANT CHIEF
COLUMBIANA, Ohio (AP) — H. Glenn Duis of Portsmouth is the new president of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

Duis, president of the Marting Brothers Co., was elected at the group's annual meeting Wednesday.

Jacob E. Davis of Cincinnati, vice president of the Kroger Co., was elected a vice president of the council. James V. Walker of Columbus was re-elected treasurer.

TROUBLED BORDER AREAS — Map locates areas on Red China-India border where Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai proposes that armed forces of the two nations pull back 12½ miles. Chou said in note to India that troops should back up from McMahon Line in east, which is what India considers its northern border, from presently held areas in western Ladakh region of Kashmir. Black areas are those claimed by both countries.

Anteaters Club to Get Weird Meals

WASHINGTON (AP) — People who eat Russell Deremer's cooking rarely complain—even when he prepares something like kangaroo soup or fried rattlesnake.

This is because Deremer specializes in gamey foods. Moreover, he cooks them only for the Anteaters Assn., a group of wild game fanciers who dine on exotic foods in a series of banquets every year. A native of Marietta, Ohio, Deremer works regularly as chef for the National Zoological Park restaurant. Beginning this week he will be spreading out some huge—and sometimes weird—meals as special Anteater chef.

Roast buffalo meat was on Tuesday's menu, and Deremer expects to cook about 440 pounds of it during the coming month of weekly Anteater banquets.

But some of the delicacies of the past sound more exotic: Mukluk or whale blubber, potted hare, sea turtle steak, wild boar, caribou, and sardian moulton.

Ordinarily, he says, the Anteaters enjoy his cooking, except when the meat is tough.

That happened in the first or second year of the Anteaters' 15 years of banqueting, he says, when he had to cope with a big elk.

"He looked like a great big mule," he recalled. "He gave us a little trouble."

Surprisingly, Deremer says, he is usually able to find somebody with a recipe for cooking practically any animal.

An exception, he said, was the time he had to cook an iguana, a Central American lizard. He had to figure out that one by himself.

"It's a white meat. They call it South American chicken," he said. chicken, he thought a second, then replied: "Well, no."

Burglar Brings Fire To Columbus Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus man probably wishes the person who forced open a window and burglarized his home Wednesday night had at least closed the window on leaving.

Because of the open window, fire officials said, the furnace thermostat caused the furnace to overheat, igniting the floor above it. The flames spread to a wall.

The burglar took $90, police said.

Damage by the fire: $1,500 to the house and $10 to a rug.

JAP SHIP SINKS

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese freighter sank today in heavy seas kicked up by a late-season typhoon and 20 of its 39 crew members are missing, the Japanese Coast Guard reported.

The 2,712-ton Nikkai Maru, loaded with timber from the Philippines, sprang a leak about 500 miles east of Formosa.

Cleveland Area Clerks Ink Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — A two-year contract providing 22½-cent hourly pay raises for 5,500 chain and independent grocery clerks in seven northeast Ohio cities was negotiated here Wednesday night.

Retail Store Employees Local 820 and the Food Industry Council were parties to the agreement, which covers Kroger, Fisher Foods, Pick n' Pay and several independent grocery stores in Cleveland, Lorain, Elyria, Painesville, Ashtabula, Conneaut and Norwalk.

Terms are similar to a settlement reached recently for 1,500 clerks of the A & P Tea Co. Cecil B. Dunlap, Local 820 president, said 12½ cents of the wage increase is retroactive to Sept. 1, with the remaining 10 cents effective next Sept. 1. A seventh paid holiday was added, seniority provisions strengthened, and leave of three days with pay for death in the immediate family also was negotiated, Dunlap said.

Chaplain Says Liberty Is Moral Matter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Capt. Merwin R. Johnson, assistant installation chaplain at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, declared here today "the church must provide the moral leadership necessary to insure the victory of our national objectives."

"Liberty is a moral matter," Capt. Johnson told University of Cincinnati Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets. The speech was part of the university's Religious Emphasis Week seminar.

Capt. Johnson asserted the four duties of church members in these days of national peril are:

1. Convince their fellow Americans that their country's ideals, convictions, and values have come from God.
2. Realize the clear issue that these ideals are engaged in a life and death struggle with Communism.

3. Actively and positively lead.

4. Recognize that moral and spiritual leadership is absolutely vital to victory.

14 Seniors Will Play Last Football Game Friday Night

Girard Is Foe In Finale Here

Salem to Defend Its 7-1 Record

Fourteen seniors will be playing their final football game for Salem High Friday night when the Quakers close the 1959 season at Reilly Stadium in an 8 p.m. tilt with the Girard Indians.

All but four of these veterans will be in the starting lineup Friday. Junior end Don Davidson and little sophomore center Fred Flory will be the only non-seniors to open against Girard.

Except for Freddy Harshman, a junior, giving away to Bob Lambert at left guard, this is the same senior-dominated lineup Coach Earle Bruce has called upon to start almost every game.

The backfield will consist of Co-Captain Fred Phillis and Frank Copacia at halfbacks. Vince Horning at quarterback and Pete Schmauch at fullback.

ACROSS FROM Davidson at right end will be Charlie Horn or Tony Petrucci, depending upon whether Salem kicks or receives. Petrucci gets the call at end on defense and Horn moves to a corner position. Horn is the offensive right end. Davidson goes both ways at left end.

Anchoring the vaunted Salem line at the tackles will be two of the best at the position in the state Joe Julian and Ned Chappell. Lambert and Charlie Metcalf give the Quakers a capable twosome at the guards.

Another senior on the squad, Tom Dahms, had his season cut short when he broke a thumb in practice before the Boardman game. Dahms had been the team's first string offensive center. He has remained with the team but does not dress for games.

Other varsity performers who will be making their farewells in a Quaker uniform Friday are ends Ron Linder and Don Greenmeyer, guard Bob Zeppernick and tackle Larry DeJane.

SALEM WILL enter the contest with a 7-1 record. Girard has only a 32-12 victory to show for their efforts in eight outings this season.

If the Quakers can hold the Indians scoreless Friday, they will have yielded fewer points in one season than any Salem team has since 1910.

The 1910 club yielded 13 points but only played five games. The last Salem team to play a nine game schedule and give up fewer than the 22 points the Quakers have yielded this year was the 1899 squad. That club was unbeaten, once tied and unscored upon.

The 1926 team yielded 25 points in 10 games. Salem will be trying to keep under that total Friday.

Despite their poor record, Girard has been shut out only once this year. Niles did the deed 22-0. However, the only game they have scored more than one touchdown was the 32-12 win over Boardman.

COACH BILL Battin's crew has been hard hit by injuries. The coach claims he will have no fewer than eight starters out of the lineup for the Salem game. He lost four regulars in the Brookfield contest and had six out for the season by the time his team played Niles three weeks ago.

No team has given the Indians a real trouncing. The 32 points scored against them by Campbell Memorial two weeks ago is the high for all opponents.

Last week Austintown Fitch whipped them 24-6 for the second highest score by an opponent.

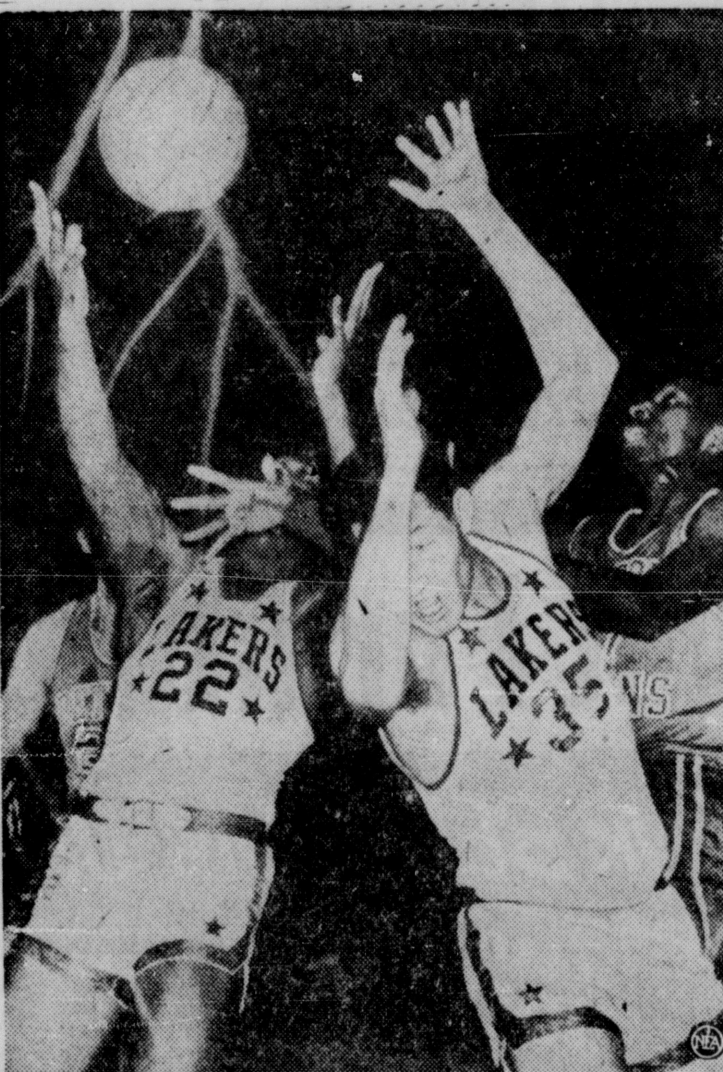

Commenting on the relatively low scores, Coach Battin said, "Most of the teams have been good to us."

Meissners Leads As City Cage Loop Opens

Meissner's Sohio moved on top of the city Class A basketball loop Wednesday at the Memorial Building by winning its second straight game of the young season 54-37 over S & B Greenhouses.

Big John Sturgeon led the scoring attack for Meissner's with 18 points. Ed Wilson chipped in with 16 markers and Wayne Walters added 15. Dave Hiner, Jerry Hendrick and Ernie Fife each had eight for the losers.

Industrial Mining, Foreman's and powerful Herron Transfer all won their openers Wednesday and trail the leader by just a half a game. Farmers National Bank, who didn't play last night, is also 1-0.

Foreman's trimmed Shaffer Ford 65-61; Industrial Mining swamped Mesmer Coal 75-49 and Herron Transfer handed Salem Stamping its second loss 75-33.

Bruce Feicht swished the nets for 23 points for Shaffer Ford but Foreman's offense, led by Dick Beall, Butch Platt and Jim Foreman, was too much to overcome. Beall tallied 19 points, Foreman 17 and Platt 16.

Industrial Mining piled up a 23-10 first quarter lead over Mesmer Coal, thanks to the sharpshooting of Gene Kitzmiller and Phil Wenner. Kitzmiller accounted for 24 markers and Wenner 18. Lee Barnes dominated the Mesmer scoring with 19 points.

Herron's displayed an awesome and well-rounded scoring punch in throttling Salem Stamping. Gerry Myers, Dean Nicholson, Bob Theiss and Harry Baird all hit in double figures for the winners. Myers was top man with 21.

Carson McNeeley was a one-man offense for Stamping, scoring 20 points. Stamping was down only 18-12 after one period but a poor second quarter left them dragging 35-16 at half time.

Browns End Search for Quarterback

CLEVELAND (AP)—The long search by the Cleveland Browns for a starting quarterback appears over. Coach Paul Brown says he has found his man—Milt Plum.

Brown showed his confidence in Plum when he said Wednesday night that he won't be looking for a quarterback in the annual draft in Philadelphia at the end of the month. Cleveland has been shaky at quarterback since Otto Graham retired in 1956.

What impresses Brown most about the 24-year-old Plum is his ability to avoid interceptions. Only four of his aeriels have been picked off by enemy defenders this year.

"That's a vital factor to me," Brown said, adding: "It gives me a chill when passes are intercepted."

"Milt is moving ahead in other ways, too. Now he does things that can come only with poise and experience."

"That was pointed up on one play against the (Philadelphia) Eagles. Our top two receivers were covered. So he looked right down the line and picked Billy Howton, the outlet man. It was a good job."

"Milt is a tenacious guy. He won't give up and he hates interceptions as much as I do."

Plum, a Penn State product in his third year with Cleveland, ranks fifth among the National Football League's passers with an average gain of 7.87 yards per try. He has completed 59.2 per cent of his passes, second only to the 62 per cent of the Los Angeles Rams' Billy Wade.

Charley Conerly of the New York Giants has had one less pass intercepted than Plum, but he has thrown 35 fewer aeriels.

Filly Wins 3rd Leg of Trot Classic

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — League it to a lady—a lady horse, that is—to add confusion to a horse race.

The third leg of the $75,000 American Trotting Classic was run off Wednesday and a charming mare named Charming Barbara upended a field of six rival men horses.

Last year Charming Barbara did much the same thing in subduing her male rivals in two straight races. But her one victory in the three-leg series brought on complications.

It had been supposed that either of the winners of the first two legs would win the third leg. The favorite was Senator Frost, who came in first last week, or the French idol, Jamin, who took the first leg of the cup Oct. 24.

But as it turned out, driver Bill Houghton and Charming Barbara came in first in what might have been the playoff at Hollywood Park.

Trader Horn was second, Jamin ator Frost was far back at sixth in the seven-horse race.

Under the rules of the Western Harness Racing Assn., there would be a race-off between Jamin, Senator Frost and Charming Barbara. But Jamin has a previous date to parade at Roosevelt Raceway in New York tonight and fly back to Europe for an impending race there.

As matters stand, Senator Frost and Charming Barbara will have a race between themselves at a date yet to be selected, with a special purse at stake.

Charming Barbara was held off the pace Wednesday and came from almost last, winning after the two front-runners, Jamin and Senator Frost, wore themselves down. Steamin' Demon, like the Senator an Ohio-owned horse, was never in contention and finished last.

Time for the one-mile feature was 1:58, fastest race time this year. Previous fastest was 1:58-4/5 by Senator Frost at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 9.

It was a track record for Hollywood Park.

Charming Barbara returned $35.40, $12.40 and $5.60.

Fox Named American League Most Valuable Player

Chicago Gets Sweep of MVP's

Colavito, Francona High In Balloting

BOSTON (AP) — Tobacco-chewing Nellie Fox, the Chicago White Sox' gritty little second baseman, today was named the American League's most valuable player for 1959.

Fox edged teammate Luis Aparicio, the shortstop half of Chicago's brilliant double play combination, in balloting for a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Fox and Aparicio, who provided Chicago with vital up-the-middle defense in the White Sox' drive for their first pennant in 40 years, were the only two players listed on all ballots. They divided all the first place votes between them. Fox polled 295 points in the voting, while Aparicio had 255. Early Wynn, Chicago's burly right hander, drew 123 points as the White Sox swept the first three places in the poll.

It was the first such award for Fox, a quiet, unassuming 31-year-old veteran whose huge cud of tobacco is almost as much a trademark as his consistent, determined play. It also marks the first time a White Sox player has been selected since the baseball writers took over the award in 1931.

Fox' selection gave Chicago a sweep of the MVP awards, only the fourth time a single city has had both American and National league most valuable players. The Cubs' Ernie Banks was named to the National League MVP award last week.

Other principal American League vote-getters were Cleveland's Rocky Colavito and Tito Francona, Al Kaline of Detroit, Jim Landis of Chicago and Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers.

Fox contributed 191 hits and a .306 average to Chicago's pennant drive. But it was his play in the field, as much as anything else, that brought him the honor, one of baseball's most coveted annual awards.

The little (5-foot-10, 160 pounds) keystone man handled 827 chances with only 10 errors for a sparkling .988 fielding average, and the Fox-Aparicio defensive play around second is generally considered a major factor in the light-hitting White Sox' pennant-winning effort.

Johnson Tops Ray In 10th In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Harold Johnson, one of the greatest fighting machines in the business, returned to Philadelphia today and his $60 a week job in a jazz combo.

"I don't get enough fights to live so I've got a five-piece combo," said the top-ranking light heavyweight who stopped Sonny Ray in the 10th round in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"We get about three night club dates a week. It pays each of us from $50 to $60. I play the drums."

The nationally televised bout with Ray was his first fight in six months and only his 11th in four years. He won them all.

For a fellow who sees such little ring action, the 31-year-old Johnson was a superb specimen against Ray, deadly and sure-fisted with panther-like reflexes.

"I knocked him down in the fourth with a right but couldn't get at him to keep him there," he said afterward. "I think I could have got him any time like I did in the last round. But not having fought for so long I was skeptical."

Kent State To End Season On Nov. 21

KENT—Kent State University's bruised football team will be idle this week, giving the Golden Flashes a much appreciated rest before they close out the 1959 season against tough Louisville University Nov. 21 at Memorial Stadium.

The Cardinals have a 6-2 record this year. They lost to Xavier 28-13 in the second game of the season, but then rebounded to win five straight before undefeated North Texas State dumped them 38-7 last Saturday.

Louisville will host Ohio University Saturday. Kent State coach Trevor Rees and his staff will view the game.

End Frank Mancini and full-back Chuck Naso did not play last week against Western Michigan, while quarterback Dick Mostard saw only limited action. All three had severe charlie horses.

More Flashes were banged up during the 7-0 loss Saturday. Guard Dick Barber was the most seriously hurt and may miss the Louisville game. He has torn ligaments in his right leg.

Quarterback John Schuster and fullback Terry McCorry were also banged up, but will practice this week. Schuster was knocked unconscious in the first quarter while McCorry's left eye was closed during the game.

California Grid Star Tons NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Gary Campbell of Whittier (Calif) College has increased his average about 50 yards a game since mid-season and retains the total offense leadership in National Assn. of Inter-collegiate Athletic football statistics.

Campbell has an average of 226.4 yards a game for a total offense yardage of 1,585 this season. He was instrumental in vaulting Whittier to the team offense lead this week with 442.1 yards a game and the team passing lead with 193.3 yards a game.

Garney Henley of Huron (S.D.) cracked the NAIA scoring record with his 34 points over four seasons. He is within nine points of the single season record of 150 with one game to play.

Jim St. Clair leads NAIA passers with a 163.9 average and his teammate at the University of California at Santa Barbara, Fred Tunncliffe, is the No. 2 receiver with his 340 points over four seasons. Willie Richardson of Jackson (Miss) State leads receivers with 88.3 yards a game.

Leading rusher is Bobby Fowler of the University of Tennessee at Martin with 148.2 yards a game. Willie Young of Bethany (W. Va.) is top punter with a 44.9 average.

Converted Halfback Called 'Inspiration' Wildcats Are Next to Get Glimpse of MSU's New Look

By The Associated Press
Now it's Northwestern's turn to catch a glimpse of the new Look. That would be Dean Look, the man Michigan State warned the Wildcats to beware of this Saturday.

He's the same man who last year was one of the Big Ten's finest halfbacks and this year has turned out to be its best all-around quarterback.

Treadway, Jeter Lead In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's Olen Treadway and Bob Jeter are hot on the scent of the Big Ten's statistical titles.

Treadway continues as the passing leader with 61 hits in 106 attempts for 641 yards and four touchdowns. This aerial burst also carries him to the total offense lead with a net 616 yards that includes a minus 25 rushing.

Jeter is the rushing leader with 394 yards in 60 trips for a 6.6 average.

Michigan State's versatile Dean Look threatens Treadway's lead in passing with 28-65 for 481 yards and six touchdowns, and in total offense with 501.

Northwestern's Mike Stock, top conference scorer with 29 points—three more than Iowa's Don Norton—is giving Jeter a run for rushing honors. Stock has barreled 321 yards in 73 carries.

Bob Ferguson of Ohio State is third in rushing with 266 yards and an 8.6 yards-per-carry that tops Big Ten regulars. OSU's Bob White, with 214 yards, is seventh in rushing. Buckeye quarterback Tom Matte is third in total offense with 422 yards.

Ohioans high in the statistics besides Stock, of Barberton, include Northwestern's John Talley, of Delaware, third in passing, and Purdue's Bernie Allen, of East Liverpool, fifth in the same department; Indiana's Ted Aucreman, of Lancaster, fourth in pass receptions with nine for 196 yards, and Northwestern's Ray Purdin, of Greenfield, tops in both punt returns and kickoff runbacks.

Teamwise, Iowa, with a 2-3 league record, is No. 1 on offense—gaining more than 354 yards a game, averaging 71 plays for 5 yards a crack. Defensively, Illinois is tops in yielding the fewest yards, 186 a game, while Purdue has given up the fewest first downs and allowed opponents only 8.8 points a game.

Presentation of Flags Marks Leetonia Veterans Day Dinner

LEETONIA — The presentation of 22 50-star American flags to Orchard Hill School highlighted the annual Veterans' Day dinner Wednesday evening at the Joe Williams American Legion Post home.

The Ladies Auxiliary served the dinner to the 95 persons in attendance. The Rev. William Woodall, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, offered grace.

Commander James Stewart introduced the special guests, Mayor and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy, the Rev. Fr. Warren Braun of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Robert Scanlon and the Rev. and Mrs. Woodall. Adjutant Glenn Strouse presented the flags to Mr. Scanlon, principal of Orchard Hill School. They included a large nylon flag to be flown in the schoolyard and 21 classroom flags.

Commander Stewart gave a past commander's pin to Waldo Hall.

Guest speaker for the evening was Rev. Woodall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. "What Hast Thou in Thy Hand" was his topic. He pointed out that we Americans take too much for granted, and we need to stop and think of the many freedoms and recourses we possess. We are a nation of integrity, he said.

Mr. Stewart announced that a membership campaign is being conducted.

Fr. Braun closed the program with benediction.

Authorities Seek Clues to Woman's Past

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—What kind of woman was Lillian Lenorak?

Investigators are hoping the answer to that question may solve the mystery surrounding her murder.

But as they study her past and question her numerous men friends in search of clues, the paradoxes keep piling up.

Some told authorities she was a carefree girl about town with many men in her life. Others said she used romance to hide her loneliness and distress over two unsuccessful marriages.

The redhaired Hollywood film cutter gave up a professional dancing career to put her 13-year-old son through an exclusive military school.

Her bludgeoned body was found Sunday morning on a lonely road near this desert resort. She was 42.

Sheriff's Lt. Edward Brown said Wednesday night a young man identified as Tord Ove Zeppenfeld was wanted for questioning. He said two pistol grips made by Zeppenfeld were found under the woman's body. Zeppenfeld, 21 and unemployed, has been missing since early Sunday, he added.

One of the men questioned by officers was a prominent optical physicist, Dr. Frank G. Black, 57, Austrian-born developer of the Zoomar lens used in TV and movie close-ups. Back, president of Zoomar Inc., was one of the last to see her alive Saturday night, investigators said. He identified her body Monday night.

The other was Ace Hudkins, 50, a disc jockey and former drummer, who said he dated her in the summer of 1958.

Dr. Black said he had known her since February. He told officers they quarreled Saturday night because he wouldn't give her the key to his Palm Springs home.

He said let her out of his car about two miles from the spot where her body was found.

McElroy Claims Stark Vice Probe Needs More Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today he needs more money to continue his gambling and vice investigations in Stark County.

Less than $2,000 remains of the $25,000 he received last August for the investigation asked by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. McElroy indicated he would ask the State Controlling Board for more money.

The attorney general reported that activities had been quiet in the county since his investigators moved in, but said developments could be expected within weeks.

Three attorneys, aided by two retired Cleveland policemen, have been conducting the probe.

but was reported under control in a few minutes.

There were no injuries among patients in the 225-bed hospital and none was evacuated during the three-alarm blaze.

Assistant Fire Chief Earl Wedemeyer said damage was confined to the first and second floor offices.

A nurse at the hospital reported the fire started in the telephone switchboard.

At least one fireman was reported to have been overcome from smoke exhaustion.

Dedication of the 2½-million-dollar addition had been scheduled for Sunday.

Cleveland Scribes Select Francona As Man of Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tito Francona, a slugger the Cleveland Indians had a hard time fitting into their lineup, today was named Man of the Year by the Cleveland chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

Francona hit 363 for the best batting average in the American League, but failed to win the league batting title because he didn't make enough appearances at the plate.

A pre-season swap, Francona for Larry Doby, brought Tito to Cleveland. Francona says first base is his best position, but adds, "It doesn't seem right for me to play first when we have the best first baseman in baseball, Vic Power, on our club."

Tito spent most of his time in center field last summer but finished at first base.

The vote, the second for man of the year, was 16 for Francona and 11 for pitcher Cal McLish. Francona and McLish tied on the first ballot.

Shortage of Teachers of Deaf Revealed

CLEVELAND (AP)—For every person who last year completed training as a teacher of deaf children, there were six fulltime vacancies in the field, the editor of American Annals of the Deaf reports.

Pourie Vaux Doctor, who in addition to his editing job is with Gallaudet College of Washington, a federal college for the deaf, declared:

"We cannot get teachers even for the normal deaf children, let alone for the multiple - handicapped."

Last year, he said, there were 25,500 deaf pupils enrolled in the nation's schools—an increase of 2,000 in the last two years. And last year, he added, only 126 persons completed their training in teaching the deaf and 26 of these were from foreign countries.

Doctor is attending the annual convention of the American Speech and Hearing Assn. which continues here through Saturday.

Ingredients: 1 bunch (about 8 large) scallions, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 packages (each 10 ounces) frozen green peas, pepper.

Method: Cut root ends from scallions; remove leaf tips and any blemished leaves.

Wash in cold water; drain. Cut scallions (including green leaves) into slanting thin 1-inch lengths; there should be 3 cups. Melt butter in 10-inch skillet) add scallions.

Coo gently, stirring often, until wilted; remove with rubber spatula to retain butter. Add boiling water, salt and both packages of peas to skillet.

Cover and boil gently until tender—no more than 5 minutes. (If peas are in block, break up before covering.)

Drain peas; add onions to them in skillet along with pepper to taste and, if desired, extra butter; reheat. Makes 8 servings.

Summer Droughts Are Great Worry

South, Seaboard Face Tough Water Problem

Last of three articles on the national water problems.

By PAUL SIMMONS
ATLANTA (AP) — The South, with heavy but capricious rainfall, has water problems in both traditional and modern patterns. Aggravating each are new demands for constant, dependable water supplies as new industries move in and old cities spread out.

Northward along the Eastern seaboard, there are few problems today but the threat of future shortages as populations boom in the dense belt of coastal cities from Delaware to Connecticut.

The traditional troubles in the South range from lowland floods in spring to blistering drought in late summer. Among new worries are a dangerously threatening drop in underground water level at a few inland locations and salt water seepage in fresh water supplies of some seaside cities, a problem which also occurs at some spots farther north.

Southern summer drought can bring mental torture as well as heavy economic loss. In 1954, after a third straight crop failure, a Georgia farmer killed himself. Crop losses that year in Southeastern states ran in the hundreds of million dollars.

U.S. Geological Survey engineer M. T. Thomson says the hardship and damage need not have been so severe. He emphasizes that the over-all problem for the South is not one of water shortage, since annual rainfall averages nearly 50 inches. It is a matter of will and know-how to control, conserve and use the ample total supply.

The South has made progress in this direction and can point to a great array of public and private dams patterned after those of the Tennessee Valley Authority providing power, water supplies, flood control and recreation.

The problem for water conservationists is public apathy during periods of good rainfall.

Another barrier to community water supplies in some spots along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts is salt water seepage into fresh water wells when consumption surges to high levels. J. T. Callahan of the Geological Survey's ground water branch says this can be overcome with artesian wells or supplies from uncontaminated areas near by.

He says artesian water, accumulated over the ages and beyond the reach of any drought, is available in abundance in the coastal plain areas, which take in most of Florida and sizable strips of other states.

Only in a few places inland, reports Callahan, has the Southern water table shown any sign of dropping sharply and permanently as it has in some other parts of the nation. Among these danger spots are rice growing districts in Arkansas and Louisiana where there has been excessive pumping for irrigation.

Water problems north along the Eastern seaboard into New England are mainly those of making best use of water that is really available for most communities.

One of the most complex problems along the seaboard is the division of the Delaware River basin's water among the states of Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and New Jersey. The waters of the basin serve 21½ million — ¼ of the U.S. population — and the heaviest concentration of industry in the nation.

After a two-year study, a group of Syracuse University political scientists reported the basin has sufficient water for at least the next 20 years. But the researchers made a strong pitch for a basin-wide agency—with the backing of the federal government — to administer a comprehensive program for storage and orderly distribution.

Parents Must Accept the Blame, However

Children Victims of Household Poison Accidents

NEW YORK CITY'S Department of Health lined up the bottles, cans and boxes which held household substances that their records show children have swallowed. Not all contained poisonous substances, but all produced injury ranging from upset stomachs to death.

By JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Mrs. Housewife, beware! Some of those soaps, polishes and cleaning fluids in your kitchen cabinet may be poisonous.

In the last four years, household fluids, powders and sprays like the ones you use in your daily cleaning chores have killed or injured more than 3,000 persons. Most have been children under five years of age.

The situation has become so serious that Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.) has introduced a bill to require manufacturers to put a warning label on any product that contains a poisonous substance. It is expected to come up for consideration when Congress convenes in January.

Federal laws already require warning labels for drugs, insecticides, rodent killers and substances such as lye and sulfuric acid. But cleansers, polishes, bleaches, detergents, rust removers and paints are not regulated.

Many of these products contain poisons, say officials of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

ADULTS AREN'T LIKELY to swallow these substances. Curious children are.

FDA officials believe warning labels would alert parents to make sure these products are out of their kids' reach. Otherwise they foresee many more such tragedies as these:

In Salt Lake City, an 18-month-old boy died after swallowing several teaspoons of household bleach containing chlorine.

A two-year-old Louisville, Ky., boy ate a handful of laundry soap. The soap contained a strong detergent which severely burned the inside of his mouth.

Recently a New York youngster became critically ill after drinking some carbon tetrachloride which his father used to clean radio parts. The chemical is also used as a dry cleaner and spot remover. The child found an uncapped bottle of the fluid on the window sill. It took a week's hospitalization for him to recover, and at that he was lucky. For carbon tetrachloride emits fumes that can cause fatal damage to a person's liver and kidneys.

Another man made the mistake of keeping carbon tetrachloride in vodka bottle. One day he forgot what was in the bottle and poured himself a drink. Ten days later he was dead.

SOME FURNITURE POLISHES are especially hazardous since they contain ingredients that make them look and smell good to children. A few years ago furniture polish deaths among children averaged 10 a year. Today, doctors report, the death rate is higher.

Doctors explain that many household poison fatalities could be prevented if the family knew how to treat the victim until the ambulance arrives. That's why they are enthusiastic about a provision in the new bill that requires the antidote for a poisonous product to be put on the label.

Doctors agree, though, that passage of the new labeling law will be only one step toward stopping accidental poisonings in the home. Children can't or won't read the labels. So it's up to adults to prevent the tragedies from happening, they say.

Here are three ways which officials of the U.S. Public Health Service's Accident Prevention Bureau say that you can do this:

1. Keep all products not used for cooking out of the reach of children.
2. Don't place them beside products that you do use for cooking. This precaution may save you from absentmindedly seasoning your soup with powdered cleanser.
3. Never pour household cleaning products into another container. You, like the man who kept carbon tetrachloride in a vodka bottle, might forget about the switch.

APPLE ROLL UP
Mrs. Richard Bare, RD 5, Salem.

2 cups flour, 4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3/4 cup milk, 4 cups chopped apples, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

mon.

Sift together dry ingredients; cut in shortening; add milk to make a soft dough. Roll into a square, 1/4" thick. Spread with apple mixture. Roll up as for jelly roll. Cut with sharp knife at 1/2" intervals, leaving one edge of roll uncut. Place on greased cookie sheet. Brush surface with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Make Cookies Now, Bake Later

A big crop of peanut-butter cookies lies ahead if you try this recipe. This refrigerator variety of dough takes to shaping in plain old-time or fancy new ways.

You can make up the cookie dough and have it on hand to bake when you will. The cookies are great for after-school snacking and to pack into lunch boxes. Their crisp and crunchy character usually delights youngsters.

Peanut-Butter Refrigerator Cookies
Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup smooth-style peanut butter, 1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream butter, peanut butter, sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg. Stir in flour mixture, mixing just enough to blend.

Shape into two 9-inch long rolls (each 1½ inches in diameter). Wrap tightly in transparent plastic wrapping, waxed paper or foil. Chill, preferably overnight. When ready to bake using a sharp thin-bladed knife, cut with a sawing motion into ½-inch thick slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet about 1 inch apart.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on cookie sheet about 2 minutes before removing with patula to wire rack to finish cooling.

To retain crispness, store in tightly covered container. Makes about 60 rounds. To make square cookies, flatten sides of rolls.

New Tricks
Can Cookies: Wash and dry four 6-ounce frozen-juice cans. Pack cookie dough firmly into cans. Cover open end with foil; chill. To remove, open closed end with can opener. Push cookie dough through can, using can lid as pusher. Slice and bake as recipe directs. Makes about 60.

Pinwheel: On waxed paper, press cookie dough into two rectangles, each 1 by 4 inches. Melt 1-3 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces over hot water; spread on rectangles and cool slightly. Lifting waxed paper, roll from long side as for jelly roll; chill. Slice and bake as recipe directs. Makes about 80.

Cloverleaf: Shape cookie dough into five rolls, each 12 inches long and ¾-inch in diameter.

Wrap and chill. Cut into ½-inch thick slices. Place 3 slices together on cookie sheet, overlapping slightly; lightly press centers. Bake as recipe directs. Makes about 72.

Indian Muffins

Ingredients: ½ cup sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup enriched yellow cornmeal, ¾ cup ready-to-eat bran, ½ cup milk, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 1 large egg, 1-3 cup chopped walnuts.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and cornmeal. Add bran to milk and soak until milk is absorbed. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in soaked bran, then flour mixture; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in walnuts.

Turn into buttered muffin-pan wells (½-cup size). Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from pans at once and serve very hot with butter. Makes 8 muffins.

TRY SALEM NEWS WANT ADS

Sunset Salad

Ingredients: 3 cups (packed) torn pieces romaine, 1 cup (packed) shredded celery cabbage, ½ cup (packed) cooked ham strips, ½ cup (packed) sharp cheddar cheese strips, 2 hard-cooked eggs (thinly sliced), 8 ripe olives, ½ cup (about) well-seasoned French dressing, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Method: Turn romaine, celery cabbage, ham, cheese, sliced egg and ripe olives into a salad bowl; cover tightly and refrigerate if not serving immediately.

Just before serving add dressing, salt and pepper to taste; toss well. Makes 4 servings.

APPLE SPONGE PIE

Elsie Bauer, RD 5, Salem.

Bake at 450 degrees for 8 - 10 minutes. Then at 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

Sift together 1 cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Cut in 1-3 cup shortening.

Add 1-6 cup milk.

Roll out on floured pastry cloth or board 1½ inches larger than a 9" pie pan when inverted.

Fit loosely into pie pan. Pat out air pockets and prick gently with a fork. Fold edge to form a standing ring. Flute.

Apple filling

Combine: 4 cups apples (medium-sized and sliced), 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon water. Blend together: ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Add to apples in pan., cover and cook over low heat stirring occasionally until apples are tender. Turn into baked shell. Spread with sponge topping.

Sponge Topping

Beat 2 egg yolks until light and fluffy. Add ¼ cup sugar gradually beating until thick and ivory colored. Blend in 1 tablespoon flour. Fold in 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 2 tablespoons whipping cream. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold gently into egg yolk mixture.

OSARK PUDDING

Mrs. Forest Sittler, Salem

½ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, ¾ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1¼ teaspoon baking powder, ½ cup chopped nut meats, ½ cup chopped apple, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat eggs and sugar together until very smooth. Combine flour, baking powder, and salt. Stir into egg mixture. Add nut meats, apples and vanilla.

Families Enjoy Raisin-Cinnamon Loaf

Every time we go marketing we notice how far raisin-cinnamon loaves have gone in this world. So many bakeries putting them out, so many families buying and enjoying them.

Seeking a little status for your own kitchen? You may gain it with this home-baked version of the bread.

Raisin Cinnamon Loaf

Ingredients: 2-3 cup hot water, ½ cup sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup warm (105 degrees) water, 2 packages active dry yeast, 1 egg (slightly beaten), ¾ cups sifted flour, 1 cup golden raisins, ¾ cup sugar, 1 teaspoons cinnamon, ¼ cup finely chopped pecans.

Method: In a small mixing bowl stir together until combined 2-3 cup hot water, ½ cup sugar, salt and butter; cool to lukewarm.

Into a large mixing bowl pour ½ cup warm water; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm water mixture. Add egg, flour and raisins; stir well to blend egg and flour—about 2 minutes.

Cover and let rise in a warm (85 degrees) place free from draft until more than doubled in bulk—50 minutes. Stir down and beat vigorously about ½ minute.

Mix together ¾ cup sugar and cinnamon. Pour one-third of the batter into a greased 1½ quart casserole and sprinkle with ¼ cup of the cinnamon sugar; repeat. Add remaining batter.

Mix remaining cinnamon sugar with pecans; sprinkle over top. Bake uncovered in moderate (375 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

'FLYING JEEP' — Curtiss-Wright's four motor flying platform undergoes formal tes's for military observers at Santa Barbara, Calif., Airport. The "flying jeep" is making its bid for Army contract in competition with two models tested by two other firms, Chrysler and Piasecki Aircraft Corp.

Two-Flavor Bars

Ingredients: ½ cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup butter or margarine, ¾ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar, 1 egg (slightly beaten), 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup chopped walnuts, ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces, ½ cup small caramel pieces (packaged for use in cooking).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and caramel pieces. Turn into buttered pan (9 by 9 by 1½ inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 2 minutes—center will still be slightly soft.

Place pan on rack to cool; cut into bars and remove with spatula. Store in tightly covered tainer.

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan; remove from heat. Mix in sugar well. Beat in egg and vanilla. Stir in flour mixture, a little at a time.

Stewed Tomatoes

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 cups thinly sliced partly pared zucchini squash, 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes, 1½ teaspoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons sherry.

Method: Melt butter in 1-inch skillet; add zucchini and turn over in butter; cook gently about 5 minutes.

Add a little of the tomato liquid to the cornstarch and stir until smooth; add to skillet with tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste. Cook and stir until thickened and clear. stir in sherry. Makes 6 servings.

Split Pea Soup

Ingredients: 1 pound package (about 2 cups) green split peas, 2 quarts water, 1½ cups chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped celery leaves, 1 cup diced carrot, 3 bay leaves, 1 ham bone, salt, pepper, water or stock, ½ pound (about 4) frankfurters.

Method: Turn peas, water, onion, celery, carrot, bay leaves and ham bone into a large saucepan or kettle. Bring to a boil. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until peas are so tender they are mushy—about 1½ hours. Remove ham bone; force soup, including vegetables, through strainer or food mill.

Add salt and pepper to taste. (Makes about 2 quarts.) Thin, to suit taste, with water or stock. Slice frankfurters into soup and reheat.

Buttered Turnips

Ingredients: 1 bunch (4) white turnips (about ½ pound after green tops are removed), ¾ cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 to 3 teaspoons butter or margarine, white pepper.

Method: Pare turnips; cut into ¼-inch cubes; there will be 1½ to 2 cups. Turn turnips, boiling water and salt into a 1-quart saucepan. Cook rapidly, covered, 1½ hours. Remove ham bone; just until turnips are tender—about 10 minutes. Drain; add butter and pepper to taste. Makes 2 servings.

PIPED ABOARD—Swooping low, a helicopter picks up the end of a pipeline from an amphibious landing craft to carry it out into the bay at Angle Bay, England. The pipeline was to be joined to a towed fuel container, which floated in the bay.

BLOT ON THE FLOOR—Youngsters point to the word "Duce," referring to former dictator Benito Mussolini, spelled out in mosaic tiles in a sports palace in Rome, scene of the 1960 Olympics. A controversy is raging over whether Fascist symbols should be removed.

'NEITHER RAIN . . .—Postman Glenn Hilburn lives up to the traditional role of mail carriers by delivering his mail in West Palm Beach, Fla., despite flooded streets that followed a week-long downpour in area.

BOXER FINDS AN OPENING—Bosco, the boxer, peers through a porthole specially designed for canine sidewalk superintendents in Manhattan. The window has been installed at a bank being erected there. Other windows are for humans.

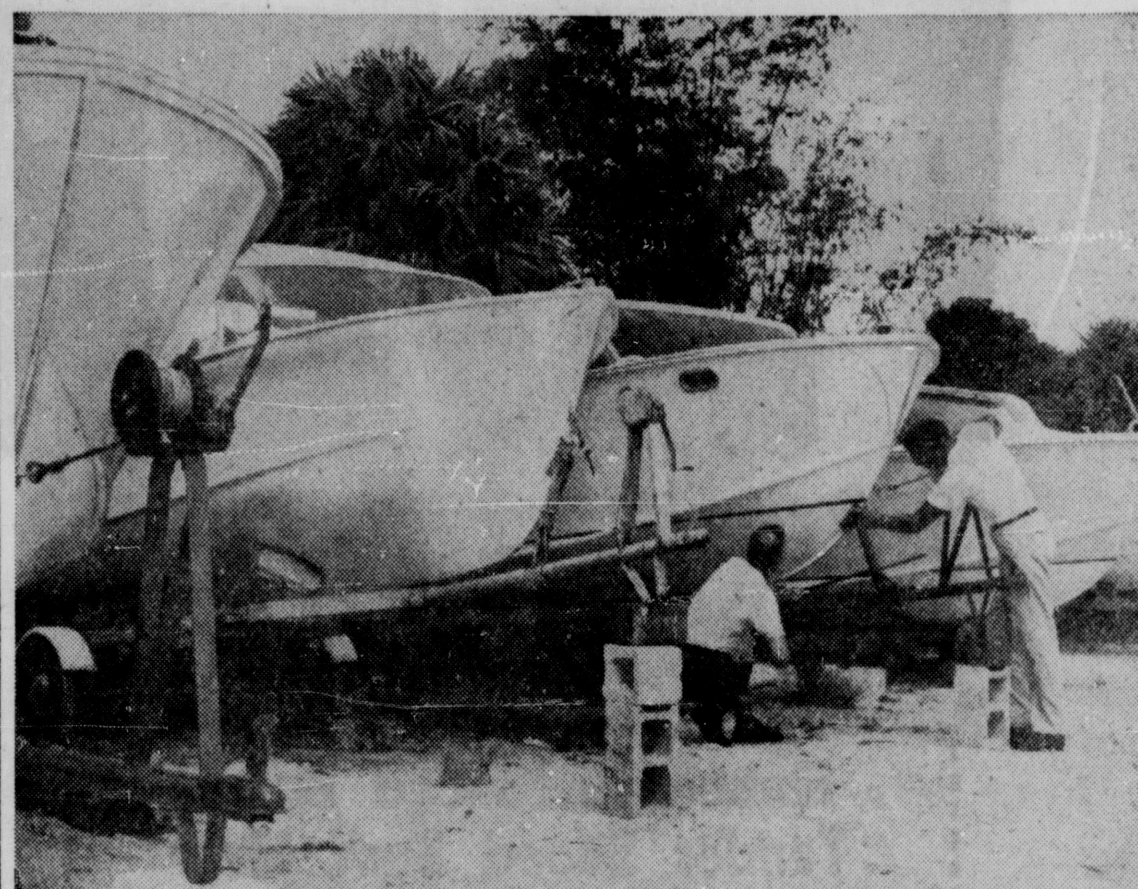

EASIEST AND EARLIEST—The mountains of Mourne look down from the background as a combine harvester works on Northern Ireland's easiest and earliest harvest in living memory. A long, hot summer has also contributed to the above-average yields of wheat, oats and barley.

INTO SNUG HARBOR

IN DAYS GONE BY, America's early pioneers rolled westward in covered wagons, but many of today's travelers are hitting the travel trail by water. This boat travel is giving rise to the boatel. Modern boatels provide skippers with everything from top-notch docking facilities to luxurious apartment units ashore. One of these is the Anchorage Boatel on the St. Lucie river at Stuart, Fla. It has slips for 40 boats. For those who go ashore, it has 18 rental units. Visitors can rent the boats right on the spot. This is home away from home for sea rovers.

The boatel also has boats for rent. Here a prospective customer checks one.

If any family wants to stay ashore, there are rental units for those landlubbers.

This is one of the several slips at the boatel where the various boats can tie up.

STREET SLEEPER—Covered by a tattered blanket, an Indian youngster goes to sleep on a sidewalk in Bombay. The other half of the straw mat is for his elder brother. Unable to rent a place to live, thousands must sleep in the streets.

Hospital Remarks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that hospital patients get tired of hearing — or overhearing: "Just between us, Joe, why don't you quit stalling and get back to work?"

"Is that all the bigger yours were? My cousin had gallstones as big as hen's eggs."

"Now, remember when we got inside — no matter how he looks, tell him he never looked better in his life."

"The gossip in the corridors is that your surgeon left a sponge in somebody the other day. You been feeling particularly thirsty?"

"This little pill is to help your appetite. This little pill is to help you sleep. This little pill is to balance your hormonal anxiety. And this little pill is —"

"Oh, don't worry about your hospital bill now. You'll have plenty of time."

"Of course, you've got only yourself to blame. If you'd only taken proper care of yourself, the whole thing wouldn't have happened."

"I don't look on the brighter side? After all, they can't take out your gall bladder twice."

"Your nurse seems like a real friendly person. When does she get her old age pension?"

"Boy, you ought to see the nurse the guy down the hall has. What a knockout!"

"Before they take you upstairs for the operation I'd like to cheer you up on one point. I went over your life insurance policy with your wife last night, and everything seems to be okay."

"Hi, Joe! Seen any interesting bedpans lately?"

"Your friends can bring you all the bourbon they want, but you can't drink it here."

"Don't worry about your job. The boss is letting Fred do your work in his spare time."

"You know I admire your wife. Even in a period of trouble such as this, she can still go out and have a good time."

Questions and Answers

Q — In speaking of a distant place, why do we use the expression Ultima Thule?
A — This was the name given in ancient literature to the most northern of known lands. Today it means any distant place, or any far-away goal.
Q — What name is given to the solid portion of the earth?
A — The lithosphere.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Doctors' Routine Is Guide to Cleanliness

When you visit the surgery in your local hospital, you'll see that nurses rely mainly on soap and water to prepare the skin area through which the surgeon plans to make his cut.

When you watch the surgeon prepare for operation, you'll see him clean his nails with an orange stick and then start scrubbing his hands with soap and a stiff brush before he puts on sterile rubber gloves. Every once in a while, you'll see him look at the wall clock to be sure he scrubs the full five minutes that's generally required for satisfactory preparation of the tools of his trade.

If you ask the surgeon why he still sticks to the old-fashioned scrub when he could save time, skin and elbow grease by simply swishing his hands through a germ-killing solution, he'll probably tell you his surgical conscience won't permit him to take a short cut at the expense of his patient's safety.

AFTER THE OPERATIONS over, you may be surprised to see that the surgeon uses only a light protective dressing for the wound. If he's sure the wound's clean, he may not use any dressing at all. If you ask why he doesn't paint the wound with a gaily colored germicidal solution, put on a bulky dressing or apply tight adhesive strapping, he'll likely tell you that none of these measures increases the healing powers of healthy living tissues and that each of them may add to the discomforts of the convalescing patient.

If you trust your surgeon and share his faith in the healing powers of living tissues, here are some suggestions for the safe and successful practice of household antisepsis and disinfection:

1. For skin care, bathe or shower at least once each day. Scrub folds, creases and hair areas with a lather made from a pure soap. The surgical experience explains the uselessness of added germicides. The addition of coloring matter and perfumes increases the cost of the soap but not its efficiency.

2. If you are sensitive to soap or the added ingredients of soap, substitute any popular brand of sudsing detergent.

3. To prevent roughness or scaling, especially for hand and feet, apply any popular brand of silicone oil on arising and on retiring.

4. For routine mouth care, remove jammed food particles from between teeth immediately after each meal. If you haven't dental floss or a toothpick, use your fingernail. After removal of food particles, you can brush your teeth with a simple lather made from hand soap. Rinse mouth with warm water from the tap.

Dentifrices that contain abrasives injure tooth enamel just as sandpaper injures your skin. Germicides and deodorants are useless. Following the example of the surgeon who removes dirt from under his nails with an orange stick, depend on mechanical methods to get rid of visible foreign matter.

Do not use a vaginal douche without your doctor's consent. Ask his permission to douche with a quart of warm tap water containing two to four tablespoonfuls of household vinegar.

She'lls and Peas

Ingredients: 1 package (7 ounces) small macaroni shells, 1 can (1 pound and 1 ounce) medium green peas with tiny onions, 2 tablespoons butter, grated Parmesan or Romano cheese (if desired).

Method: cool shells according to package directions using the amount of boiling water and salt called for; drain in colander.

Drain peas; add peas and ¼ cup of their liquid to saucepan; heat rapidly; liquid will evaporate. Add hot drained shells and butter; toss together over low heat. (A good deal more butter may be added for a richer dish.) If desired, serve with grated cheese. Makes 6 servings.

Rogers

WCTU meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert McMillan Friday at 2 p.m. Mrs. Besie Pike will be program leader. Victor Hauenstein is in the South Side Hospital, Room 279A, West Wing, Youngstown. He had a spinal operation. Mr. and Mrs. George Houser of near Rogers are his grandparents.

Mrs. Cora Cope was 93 years old Monday. She is the mother of Judge Frank Cope of Carrollton. Mrs. Cope is in fair health.

Women's Society of Christian Service will meet at the Rogers Methodist Church Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Judge and Mrs. Frank Cope of Carrollton were Sunday guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Cora B. Cope.
